KRUSKA, COMMANDER OF GERMAN PRISON CAMP, TO BE PUT ON TRIAL

Unofficial Report Says Allies Have Demanded Surrender of Teuton Officer Who Caused Deaths of 3,000 French Prisoners

London, Aug. 8.—The surrender of General Kruska, who was commander of the German prison camp at Kaiser, has been demanded by the Allies as the first of the enemy officials to be tried for violations of international law during the war, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph, quoting Berlin advices. General Kruska is accused of having been responsible for an epidemic of typhus fever at the Kaiser Camp which caused the deaths of 3,000 French prisoners.

LIBERALS CALL FOR RAILWAY INQUIRY

Falkenhayn Now.
Paris, Aug. 8.—Newspapers here announce that Baron Kurt von Lersner, head of the German Mission at Versailles, has transmitted to the Supreme Council a letter from General Von Falkenhayn, former German Chief of Staff, in which he claims responsibility for all military acts by Germany while he was in power from the beginning of the war to the end of the Battle of Verdun.

Socialists.
Geneva, Aug. 7.—Via London, Aug. 8.—The International Socialist conference now in session at Lucerne, which is preliminary to the main congress to be held here in January, 1920, voted to-day in favor of a German resolution advocating revision of the German peace treaty.

Berlin, Aug. 7.—Via London, Aug. 8.—(Associated Press).—At a conference the Prussian Minister of Railways announced that the railways generally had only sufficient coal for a week or a fortnight and that a great restriction in passenger traffic therefore must be expected.

Germany and Coal.
Berlin, Aug. 7, via London, Aug. 8.—A commission and employers and workers appointed at a conference of coal experts from all parts of Germany to devise means of increasing the production of coal held its first session to-day. Germany has succeeded in inducing France to admit that her demand for 40,000,000 tons of coal annually was a physical impossibility, but it appears that Germany cannot even hope to have enough coal to meet the country's most urgent needs.

The people have been warned to prepare for the coming winter. The idea, however, is not to attract much attention in Government circles.

United States Gets $400,000,000 for Army Supplies in France

Paris, Aug. 8.—An agreement for the sale of American army stocks in France for $400,000,000 was signed yesterday, says Marcel Hutin in The Echo de Paris. He declares that arrangements were made for a long-term credit so that France will not have to bear the high rate of exchange which prevails at present.

Turks Move Against Armenians, Who Now Need Food Supplies

Paris, Aug. 8.—In Armenia the situation is becoming alarming. Food-stuffs are entirely cut off and Turkish troops are closing in upon the Armenians because of the withdrawal of the British troops. The announcement that the Italians are unable to send troops to replace the British makes the future of the Armenian nation seem especially dark.

Gen. Milne Commands All Allied Troops in Western Asia Minor

Constantinople, Aug. 8.—Lieut.-General Sir George Francis Milne, commander of British forces at Salonica, has been given authority by the Peace Conference, pending its ultimate decisions, to control all the Allied troops in Western Asia Minor and to restore order in the Smyrna district. General Milne has been responsible for the demarcation of the zone of Greek military occupation.

TWO MEN PERISH BY DUEL IN WILDERNESS OF NORTH; HUNTERS' JURY BURIES BODIES

Quarrelling during a recent trip into the wilds of the Peace River country, two American prospectors, F. L. Sharpe and J. J. Regalado, settled their dispute instantly by drawing their guns and, in the ensuing duel, shot each other in cold blood.

Such is one of the most remarkable stories which have ever come to the attention of the Provincial Police Department and which is summarized in a report received to-day by Chief of Provincial Police McMynn from Chief Constable Harry Taylor, who has investigated the case. It appears that the bodies of the two prospectors were found by another prospecting party on May 4 lying in front of their camp between the Nelson and Sikauni Rivers. After deciding that the men came to their deaths as the result of a duel, the hunters formed themselves into a self-constituted coroner's jury and buried the bodies. Two small wooden crosses in the woods now mark the graves and the scene of the double tragedy.

Party Found Bodies.
According to information given police officers Sharpe and Regalado went into the Nelson River country early in the spring to prospect. Nothing more was heard of them until on May 4, when their dead bodies were found by a party consisting of Homer Johnson, understood to be a Dominion Land Surveyor, W. Hinchcliffe, A. N. Greathouse, prospectors, and their half-breed guide, a man named Gray. The corpses lay a few yards from each other, and beside a camp which had been made near a little lake. It was evident that the men had been dead some days, though the bodies were well preserved, probably on account of the cool weather. After examining carefully the positions of the bodies and the positions of the revolvers which lay by their side, the party concluded that the men, enraged at each other, had whipped out their guns and fired. Sharpe, receiving two bullets in the body, and Regalado dying from a bullet through the brain.

Sharpe lay with a bullet hole in his head, and beside him was found a 44-40 Colt six-shooter, which contained (Concluded on page 14.)

Paris, Aug. 8.—Louis Klotz, the Minister of Finance, has informed the Budget Committee of the Chamber of Deputies, says The Journal to-day, that he is opposed to the proposed 3,000,000,000-franc national lottery. The Minister stated that he preferred a national loan.

LIBERALS WANT MORE MONEY RAISED BY DIRECT TAXATION

Ottawa, Aug. 8.—Practice of the severest economy by the Government of Canada and an increased revenue from the imposition and collection of "graduated taxes on business profits and incomes, applicable to all incomes above reasonable exemptions, and taxes on luxuries," are demanded by the Liberal Party.

The demands are set forth in the following resolution, moved by W. E. Knowles, Regina, and seconded by J. H. Sinclair, M. P. for Antigonish and Guysboro, Nova Scotia, and passed by the National Liberal Convention last night:

"Whereas the national safety demands that the serious financial position of the country should be known and appreciated in order that steps may be taken to cope with the same, and

"Whereas, on March 31 last, according to the statement of the Minister of Finance, the net public debt was $1,584,000,000, or roughly $230 for every man, woman and child in the Dominion, involving an annual interest charge of about $115,000,000 and thus imposing an annual burden for interest on the debt alone of $15-per head of population, and

"Whereas the estimated revenue is only $250,000,000, thus creating an estimated deficit of over $500,000,000—a sum equivalent to $62.50 per head of the population, which sum the Finance Minister proposes to obtain by borrowing, and

PASSENGER STEAMSHIP IS ASHORE IN NOVA SCOTIA; AID AT HAND

Boston, Aug. 8.—The steamship North Star left this port for Yarmouth, N. S., yesterday with 235 passengers, went ashore to-day on Green Island, six miles off Yarmouth, according to word received by officials of the Eastern Steamship Lines here. Four steamships, including the Canadian Government steamer Stanley, were standing by, and the passengers were said to be in no danger.

EX-ARCHDUKE SAYS HE IS DEMOCRAT

But New Hungarian President Is Surrounded by Monarchist Influences

Vienna, Aug. 7.—Via London, Aug. 8.—(Associated Press).—There is no intention of making ex-Archduke Joseph King of Hungary, according to advices from Budapest, his office merely that of President. Although he is surrounded by old monarchist influences, he has declared in an interview that he would attempt to work along the same lines as Count Michael Karolyi, saying:

"I am a true democrat. I tried to show this by surrendering most of my estates last fall. It is my intention to carry on the government until the elections are held, and then Parliament will decide upon matters."

After various consultations with Allied representatives, including relief administration men, in Budapest yesterday, ex-Archduke Joseph and his generals called upon the Allied representatives in a group.

Trousers Stolen.
Reports reaching here say this visit had to be delayed because of ex-Archduke's trousers had disappeared, having been stolen. His attaches had to do some quick skrimishing to borrow another pair. It is said, inasmuch as the Communists had taken most of the ex-Archduke's clothing a month ago.

When he visited the Allied representatives he presented his plan for a new Government which was tacitly accepted.

Representatives of the new Government visited Premier Jules Peltet and other members of the Hungarian Cabinet, and announced to them that they must resign. It being declared that they had been unable to keep order, and were unrepresentative of the nation. The Ministers then handed in their resignations.

Were Thrashed.
Copenhagen, Aug. 8.—A dispatch received from Vienna says that according to Die Zeit, the Hungarian Ambassador fled from Vienna Wednesday in an automobile after having destroyed all his secret documents.

The dispatch adds that Hungarian journalists and officers went to the Embassy Thursday morning and thrashed the staff and threw the members into the street.

WRITERS COMMENTS ON LIBERALS' CHOICE

Toronto Globe and Other Papers Deal With Mackenzie King

Toronto, Aug. 8.—Commenting on the choice of Hon. W. E. Mackenzie King as Dominion Liberal Leader, The Toronto Globe says:

"The new leader has specialized in the consideration of labor problems and in questions of social reform. As Deputy Minister and afterwards as Minister of Labor, Mr. King was distinctly successful in administration and to the greater credit, should the Liberal policies command the support of the voters, he would bring much experience in public life and a quite remarkable capacity for getting at facts."

Mr. Fielding.
The Globe devotes a great deal more attention to Mr. Fielding, who, not destined to the leadership, will occupy an outstanding position among the Liberals in the House by reason of the fine expression of confidence by the Ontario and western delegates to the Convention. He will again be what he has been—a wise counsellor and an effective critic.

Toronto Star.
Toronto, Aug. 8.—"The Liberal Convention did itself credit in electing the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King as leader of the Liberal Party and also in giving to the Hon. W. S. Fielding a degree of support which is due to long and honorable service and an unusual name," says The Toronto Star.

"Leadership is, of course, a complicated task, requiring the exercise of qualities which can only be tried by actual experience. But it can be said for Mr. King that he is not only Liberal and progressive himself, but open-minded, hospitable and receptive to ideas, and that men and women who are looking forward and are zealous for Liberalism in the true and broad sense will find him a congenial spirit. He is a rising hope, not only of the Liberal Party but to a large extent to the country."

Vancouver Comments.
Vancouver, Aug. 8.—Dealing with the new Liberal Leader, The Vancouver Sun says:

"Mr. King comes to his new work well equipped. He certainly has devoted more time and thought to the labor problem than any other man in Canada. To judge by the balloting at the Convention, he is especially acceptable to the French-Canadian membership of the party."

The Vancouver World (Independent), says that Mr. King has one valuable (Concluded on page 14.)

33,000 MEN ON STRIKE IN CHICAGO

Meat Packing Plants Tied Up; Transportation Strike in Brooklyn

Chicago, Aug. 8.—A general strike of 33,000 employees at the packing plants in the stockyards here began at 9 o'clock this morning. The action followed the decision of the stockyard labor council last night to call a general strike unless the state troops and police guards were immediately withdrawn from the plants. The strike was precipitated by the return of 5,000 negroes to work yesterday.

In Brooklyn.
New York, Aug. 8.—With only a few surface cars, and an occasional elevated or subway train in operation, thousands of Brooklyn residents were compelled again to-day to resort to buses, motor cars and trucks.

The third day of the strike of Brooklyn Rapid Transit employees brought little or no relief.

LEADERS AT OTTAWA PREPARE FOR SESSION TO COMMENCE SEPT. 1

New Liberal Leader Is Consulted by Prime Minister About Bye-Elections; Mr. King and Sir Henry Drayton in Need of Seats

Ottawa, Aug. 8.—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Leader of the Opposition, was in conference with Sir Robert Borden for some considerable time this morning. The conference took place at the instance of the Prime Minister, it is understood.

Sir Robert extended his congratulations to the new Liberal Leader.

Arrangements for the coming session were under consideration, with the question of issuing writs for bye-elections for the vacant seats. An endeavor, it is stated, will be made to provide for both Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, and the Leader of the Opposition before the opening of the session on September 1. In his case a delegation from Glengarry County will wait on Mr. King asking him to run in Glengarry-Stormont. John McMartin was returned for this constituency as a Liberal-Unionist last election, but died shortly after the opening of the session.

The suggestion also is made that Mr. King might run in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's old constituency of Quebec East. It was further stated to-day that Mr. King might secure the nomination in Assiniboia, Sask., for the remainder of the present parliamentary term if he wishes to accept it. This seat was made vacant by the appointment of Mr. Turritt to the Senate.

Within a few days Mr. King will take over the Opposition Leaders' office in the House of Commons Building.

Paris, Aug. 8.—The presence of Premier Clemenceau at the first general assembly of the League of Nations at Washington is strongly urged in American quarters, according to Marcel Hutin, of The Echo de Paris.

As to the date of the assembly, it is said, an exchange of views between the Allied Governments now is going on.

Brussels, Aug. 8.—Cardinal Mercier will start for the United States and Canada on September 4 or 5 and probably will be gone until the end of October. He intends to visit Montreal and Quebec. He has been invited to go to British Columbia but will hardly find time to make such an extended trip.

PLANNING PENALTIES FOR PROFITEERS

British Government's Bill on Cost of Living Given First Reading

London, Aug. 8.—The Government's bill providing penalties for persons found guilty of profiteering has passed first reading in the House of Commons.

London, Aug. 8.—The Government's sudden decision to introduce a profiteering bill in Parliament, announced at a committee meeting on Wednesday, is meeting many adverse comments in the newspapers. Many of the papers condemn the terms of the bill, which provides for a system of tribunals, and others express dissatisfaction at the decision which interrupted the work of parliamentary committees.

Socialist View.
The Socialist Herald says the Government's decision was due to the fear that the committee investigation would reveal unsavory facts. The paper recalls that the members of the Government declared it impossible to define profiteering, and that the Food Controller's testimony before the parliamentary committee showed many causes of high prices aside from profiteering.

Critics of the Government's course among the newspapers say there probably would be as many definitions of profiteering as there would be tribunals and some suggest that the plan to try the profiteers locally might open the way to unjust prosecution of individual merchants through revenge.

Called Lunacy.
The Daily News says the scheme is hardly removed from sheer mischievous lunacy.

The Daily Telegraph characterizes the proposal as thoroughly vicious.

TO HARVEST FIELDS.
Winnipeg, Aug. 8.—Parties from Alberta and British Columbia for the Manitoba harvest fields have arrived here and have been sent to various sections of Manitoba.

TRAINED NURSE HAS GAINED 22 POUNDS BY TAKING 4 BOTTLES

Mrs. Josephine Freeman Says
Tanlac Is a Wonderful Medicine

Mrs. Josephine Freeman, of 447 Towne Avenue, Los Angeles, Cal., a graduate nurse who had practiced her profession for seventeen years, recently made the remarkable statement that she had not only been relieved of a case of stomach trouble of ten years' standing by the use of Tanlac, but that she had also gained twenty-two pounds in weight.

When asked if she would be willing for her experience with Tanlac to be published, Mrs. Freeman said:

"Yes, indeed, I feel that I would be doing anyone suffering from stomach trouble and a rundown condition a good turn by getting them to take Tanlac. For ten years I have been having trouble with my stomach. I could not eat anything without suffering intense pains afterwards, and at times I would almost faint. I became so nervous that I could hardly get any sleep or rest, and got so run down and weak that I could scarcely keep up my work as a nurse. I, of course, used all kinds of medicines, and did everything possible, but could never get more than just a little temporary relief.

"Finally a friend of my husband, who had been relieved of the same trouble by taking Tanlac, advised him to have me try it, and right from the first bottle I began to feel better. My appetite came back, my blood circulation improved wonderfully, and my nerves began to quiet down. I can eat just anything I want now, and never have the least pain or trouble afterwards. I sleep soundly every night and I feel rested and refreshed on getting up in the morning. When I began taking Tanlac I was weighing only one hundred and thirty pounds, and was still losing. But now I tip the scales at one hundred and fifty-two, making an actual gain of twenty-two pounds on four bottles of Tanlac. I just feel so strong and well now that it's a real pleasure for me to recommend the medicine that helped me so much. Tanlac is a perfectly wonderful medicine, and I am glad to give credit where it belongs."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas Avenues.

LIBERALS DECLARE FOR RECIPROCITY

Resolution on Trade With States Passed at Ottawa Convention

MR. FIELDING SAYS
PEOPLE OF ONE MIND

Declares They Are Agreed on Desirability of Early Change

Ottawa, Aug. 3.—A resolution in favor of reciprocity between Canada and the United States was passed by the National Liberal Convention yesterday. It was introduced by Hon. W. S. Fielding and seconded by W. T. McMillan, of Winnipeg, Manitoba.

The resolution said the reciprocity agreement negotiated with the United States by the Liberal Government of Canada in 1911 was a measure which realized the hopes that had been entertained and efforts made for better trade relations between Canada and the neighboring republic by the statesmen of both political parties in the Dominion from the beginning of the Dominion's history.

"That the agreement was fair and just to both countries and well calculated to promote the good relations so desirable.

Partisan Action.

That the action of the Conservative Party under the leadership of Mr. now Sir Robert Borden, in opposing and defeating the agreement was a sacrifice of the best interests of Canada for distinctly partisan ends. That the insincerity of the Conservative leaders on that question was abundantly evidenced by the fact that after coming into office they had proposed the same of the very tariff changes, the denunciation of which had been their chief plea for election to office.

That the action of the Conservative leaders in preventing the consummation of so excellent an arrangement between the two countries deserved, and still should receive, whenever the opportunity occurs, the severe condemnation of the Canadian people.

That the reciprocity agreement was approved in 1911 by the Congress of the United States and the law giving such approval still remains on the American statute books.

No Complaint.

That if the proposal lately made in the Congress of the United States to repeal the said law be carried out the people of Canada will have no cause to complain, since the Americans have kept the law unimpaired for the long time of eight years during which Canada has made no move to avail herself of its provisions.

That while, for these reasons, the Liberal Convention could take no exception to the proposal so made at Washington, the delegates as Liberals, again placed on record their appreciation of the object of the said agreement and their faith in the principles of friendly international relations underlying it, and expressed their earnest hope that in both countries such principles would be upheld, and that a favorable moment would come when there might be a renewed manifestation by the two countries and a desire to make a similar agreement.

Fielding Spoke.

Hon. W. S. Fielding was received with applause when he arose to speak on the resolution. He stated that history was repeating itself. His mind turned back to the great Liberal Convention of 1893, when the West was not so strongly represented as it is now. He wondered whether there was some mysterious power in the number 26 for the Liberal party. The first convention had been held just 26 years after Confederation. It was 26 years from that time to the present Convention.

Three years after the convention of 1893 the Liberals had come into power, remaining there for a period of fifteen years. At the end of this long term of office the most unkind thing the Tories could say was that things had been brought to such a satisfactory condition they should be left alone.

People Not Satisfied.

Mr. Fielding expressed the view that the people would not be satisfied to leave things alone when it became the duty of the present Government to relinquish office.

The Liberal Party, said Mr. Fielding, claimed to be the party of the people because it trusted them. This was illustrated by the fact that the Liberals had held two national conventions while the Conservatives had not held a single one.

Turning to reciprocity, he said that although the people of Canada must inevitably be divided on certain questions, he thought they were all agreed that Canada should have better trade relations with the United States.

A reciprocity agreement, Mr. Fielding added, had been defeated by men who believed in it, who had applauded it and who had written articles in favor of it.

On taking his seat Mr. Fielding was loudly cheered, a large number of the delegates rising.

In seconding the resolution W. T. McMillan, of Winnipeg, said that the men who had gone and defeated the reciprocity agreement were traitors and had got behind the folds of the old flag. For supporting reciprocity men had been called traitors, and Mr. McMillan predicted that those who favored it now would be called Bolsheviks.

Cold Storage.

Hon. Sydney Fisher declared during a speech on agriculture that cold storage warehouses were almost as necessary to the agriculture of Canada as grain elevators were. He was speaking on a resolution calling for encouragement to be given agriculture which he had introduced, one of the clauses of which declared:

"With the object of reducing the high cost of living by eliminating as far as possible waste and expense in handling food products between the producer and consumer, it is expedient to extend the principle and system of Canadian Government elevators and to provide warehouses equipped for the assembling, assorting, preparing, storage and grading of food products in order that co-operative organizations and others may have available to them reliable, modern equipment for the distribution of farm products in superior condition and at lessened cost either for domestic consumption or for export, and that cold storage transportation facilities should be provided at the cost of operation for the shipment of food products throughout Canada and for carrying to the markets of the world the surplus farm products of this country and delivering them in such condition that it will make Canadian foodstuffs a standard of quality for the world's markets."

It was a well-known fact, said Mr. Fisher, that the farmers did not receive any adequate return for the food which they produced when compared with the prices charged to consumer. Anything which would tend to eliminate waste and expense in the distribution of food products was of great importance. Cold storage warehouses would do this.

Banking System.

The resolution, said Mr. Fisher, did not include a clause on banking, but recommended the formation of a committee to deal with this. He expressed the view that the present banking system was designed to benefit commercial rather than agricultural interests.

Revenue.

In seconding the resolution, Hon. J. F. Tweeddale, Minister of Agriculture of New Brunswick, declared that the country must look to agriculture for revenue to meet the great obligations due to the war. The only way to meet these obligations was by increasing production. The natural resources of Canada might be summed up under the heads of agriculture, forests, mines and fisheries. Of these four agriculture in a single year yielded as much revenue as the other three put together.

The protective tariff, said Mr. Tweeddale, was hard on the farmer and served to divert his money into the coffers of the wealthy manufacturer. Agriculture could not properly be discussed without bringing in the tariff, transportation and trade arrangements with outside nations.

He was sorry, he said, to see that the reciprocity agreement had been taken off the books of the United States.

Not Included.

John King, of Fort William, Ont., asked whether the cold storage clause in the resolution was intended to apply to slaughterhouses and stockyards. If not it would hardly benefit the farmers.

He was told that slaughterhouses and stockyards were not included. The resolution carried as originally drafted.

FRESH DIFFICULTIES IN IRISH SITUATION, SAYS LLOYD GEORGE

London, Aug. 3.—Sir Donald Maclean, Liberal, in the House of Commons yesterday raised the question of Irish policy, saying he wanted a discussion of it.

Mr. Lloyd George, in replying, expressed the belief that a discussion now would not conduce to a favorable settlement. He had an Irish policy in view, he said, but realized that there existed fresh difficulties which might induce the Government to modify or alter particular views it might hold.

"It is not a credit to the country that after hundreds of years of British rule in Ireland, we have failed to succeed in reconciling Ireland to the partnership," he said. "It is the business of statesmanship to bring that condition of things to an end. The rule of force cannot be the last word."

He admitted it was the business of the Government to propose and to carry out a policy after careful consideration of all the circumstances.

Replying to the suggestion of Labor members of withdrawal of the troops from Ireland, the Prime Minister thought Irishmen themselves would be the first to protest against such a course. Law and order must be maintained, and the Government was responsible for preserving order.

He hoped next week, or the following week, to submit to the House a general review of the industrial situation and policy, because he wished to place the nation face to face with its responsibilities. The situation in many respects was abnormal, and so grave that he feared it impossible to recover and re-establish things unless everybody realized his responsibility.

CROP DAMAGE ON FARMS OF MANITOBA

Winnipeg, Aug. 3.—Crop damage by black rust will amount to from five to forty per cent. of the total crop in Southern Manitoba, and about five per cent. of the crop in Northern Manitoba, according to reports sent in by the Manitoba Government inspectors. A thorough inspection of the crop has been made and they assert that the rust has only appeared during the last ten days.

A fortunate feature, however, was the fact that the wheat was about past the milk stage, as otherwise the damage would have been much greater.

In Northern Manitoba the wheat stem maggot is at work, and damage estimated at five per cent. has been done. This insect cuts the wheat at the lowest joint, which causes it to fall and rot.

CHAMBERLAIN WARNS BRITISH TO PRODUCE MORE AND SPEND LESS

London, Aug. 3.—"If we continue spending at the rate we are now, it will lead straight to national bankruptcy," was the strong warning given by Rt. Hon. J. Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in the House of Commons yesterday. "If we cannot increase production," he continued, "we shall go straight to national bankruptcy. Neither increased production nor reduced expenses alone would suffice. We have got to do both if we are to pull through and turn the corner. The balance between expenditure and revenue is definitely and seriously less favorable than when I made my budget statement. Both sides of the account are failing to realize expectations."

"The delay in the conclusion of peace involves greater naval and military expenditure, and one or two new blocks of expenditure have been sanctioned," Mr. Chamberlain cited an additional £120,000,000 for pensions and increased naval pay and £4,500,000 for the police. On the receipts side, the speaker continued, the decision to continue control of food meant delay in realizing on the vast trade in stocks of the Food Ministry, and therefore £75,000,000 from that source would not reach the exchequer this year.

The whole Government, Mr. Chamberlain said, saw the seriousness of the situation and was endeavoring to find a remedy.

LIBERALS DEMAND ELECTION INQUIRY

Convention Calls For Royal Commission on Taking of Soldiers' Vote

RESOLUTION PASSED BY DELEGATES AT OTTAWA

W. T. R. Preston and J. E.
Adamson, Winnipeg; Charge
Grossest of Frauds

Ottawa, Aug. 8.—The National Liberal Convention carried with much enthusiasm the following resolution, moved yesterday by W. T. R. Preston, of Port Hope, Ontario, and seconded by J. E. Adamson, of Winnipeg:

"Whereas it has been openly charged that there was a conspiracy to carry out an elaborate system of frauds in connection with the military voters' part of the War-Time Election Act for the purpose of over-coming the voice of the honest electorate of the Dominion, involving the voting of unqualified persons, double voting, personation, ballot stuffing and illegal switching or transferring of tens of thousands of votes to constituencies other than those in which the military electors were known to be entitled to vote;

"And whereas, it has been openly charged that these colossal frauds were perpetrated under the direction and with the connivance of Cabinet Ministers, military officers and civilian officials holding influential and responsible positions;

"And whereas, it has been alleged that persons were officially known to be immediately implicated in the control of these frauds, and subsequently were recommended by the Prime Minister for Imperial honors at the hands of His Majesty the King;

"Therefore this Convention hereby demands the appointment of an impartial royal commission, with unlimited power and authority, to institute a full and exhaustive inquiry into the conduct of every phase of the illegal and other fraudulent practices in connection with the elections held under the War-Time Military Voters' Act, and this Convention also demands the punishment of every person, military or civilian who was moved to have been involved in the before-mentioned election frauds."

Conspiracy.

Speaking to the resolution, Mr. Preston stated that having been the representative of the Liberal Party overseas in the last general election, he was ready to charge conspiracy against persons high in Government positions. Every offence which it was possible to commit had been committed, he said. It had not been for the fraudulent conduct of the Government representatives there would be twenty-five more Liberal members in the House of Commons to-day.

The conspiracy to win over the soldiers' vote by fraudulent acts, said Mr. Preston, had been hatched in Ottawa. It was done with the knowledge of the Prime Minister and Sir George Perley, Hon. J. D. Reid, and Hon. N. W. Rowell were involved in it.

Telegrams.

Mr. Adamson, who seconded the resolution, read the following telegram from Senator Sharpe to A. E. Blount, formerly secretary to Sir Robert Borden: "Winnipeg, Man.—A. E. Blount. There has been a big row created here by E. F. Hutchings in reference to his son being conscripted. He offered to subscribe $500,000 to Victoria Loan provided his son was not conscripted. He is now appealing to Judge Duff at Ottawa. You must see that no decision is made on this before election. "We want to keep him in doubt until after election, and then his conscription should be upheld or it will cause a small rebellion here. Please see proper people and have this matter arranged. "W. H. SHARPE."

A Great Scandal.

"I charge the Prime Minister, Sir Robert Borden, and his colleagues, and Hon. Arthur Meighen," Mr. Adamson declared, "that they conspired to, were personally active in, and have been guilty of the most glaring election corruption and fraud. The Pacific Scandal," he added, "pales into insignificance in comparison."

Telegram From Meighen.

He then read a telegram which Mr. Meighen sent in code to Sir Robert Borden. The telegram was as follows: "Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 30, 1917. "Sir R. L. Borden, Ottawa: "Would like one thousand soldier votes at large for Manitoba, of which 300 for Selkirk, balance divided between Provencher, Macdonald and Springfield, or same proportion of division, no matter what our allotment may be."

"ARTHUR MEIGHEN."

Allotment of Votes.

Mr. Adamson read a third telegram which he said Senator Sharpe sent to Senator Tanner from Winnipeg on December 4. The telegram read:

"Winnipeg, Man., Dec. 4, 1917. "Senator Tanner, Halifax, N. S.: "W. J. Tupper received a telegram from your assistant secretary and in reply would say please allot all untaxed votes equally among the following constituencies:

"Provencher, Springfield and Selkirk, for the province of Manitoba; and in Saskatchewan, Saltcoats, North Battleford, Prince Albert, Swift Current and Humboldt. This will assist us greatly."

"W. H. SHARPE. "Charge Union Government Committee."

there ever a more damnable political crime in the country? If this does not influence the consciences of right-minded Canadian people I do not know what will."

The resolution was carried by the convention.

Statement by Meighen.

Hon. Arthur Meighen, after being shown a copy of the telegram read by J. Adamson at the Liberal Convention yesterday, purporting to have been addressed to the Prime Minister and signed by Mr. Meighen, said: "I have no recollection of the message. However, under the statute all soldiers in the Canadian army who had no Canadian domicile, such, for example, as British subjects resident in the United States, who themselves numbered many thousands, could choose the constituency in which they voted, and were known as voters-at-large. There was, indeed, no other way, at least no fairer way, in which they could be given the franchise. These soldiers were naturally desirous of voting where their votes would be most effective, and all that could be done, and all that was done, was to inform them where such votes could be most effective. The opposition in this respect had precisely the same privilege as the Government; that is, wherever there were soldiers who wanted to vote for it. There is nothing whatever wrong about the telegram—except the theft of it."

GEN. CADORNA AND OTHERS BLAMED FOR ITALY'S SET-BACK

Rome, Aug. 8.—According to The Popolo Romano, the commission which is inquiring into the Caporetto disaster of October, 1917, when the Italian line was broken by the great Austro-German attack, although admitting the influence of Socialist and clerical propaganda, especially after the Papal message in August, 1917, proposing peace, attributes the defeat chiefly to military causes—depression in the morale of the troops and the absolute lack of reserves.

The newspaper adds that Generals Cadorna, Porro, Capello and Cavaciocchi were mainly responsible for the disaster.

Leader Says Party Will Move
For Greater Freedom
For All

Ottawa, Aug. 8.—"Putting behind us all those things which are of the past, and looking forward only to those things which are before us, we must start from this moment a great and mighty force, making for greater freedom for all and greater righteousness in public affairs, and press on till we reach the goal which has been laid down in the platform adopted by you on this occasion."

In these words Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King concluded a speech to the National Liberal Convention last night just after that body had elected him Leader of the Liberal Party of Canada. "I feel that while I must ask you to make allowances for any shortcomings," he said, "you will feel that in seeking to carry out the work of the Liberal Party in the way the members of the party would wish it to be done, I will rely on the counsels of those men, leaders of the Liberal Party, whose wisdom everywhere will be a compass to point my direction aright."

"If more guidance is needed, it can be found in the platform adopted by this gathering, which would be a chart by which one can be able to see the course desired by the people of this great country."

"I would be unworthy in any measure of the confidence which you have so abundantly bestowed upon me," continued Mr. King, "were I not fully conscious of my own lack of experience and my own limitations for the great honor which you have conferred upon me, and I should despair of ever being able to discharge the obligations attached to the position were it not that I realize that the one called upon to accept the position of leader of a great national party like this must first be the servant of all the members of that party and of all the people whom he represents."

"And in being so, I know I can count for the guidance on the great force of able parliamentarians, those great leaders with me on the platform, and on all the people I see before me in this great audience."

The Voting.

It was at 7.30 p. m. that the chairman announced the election of Mr. King as Leader, the vote standing: King, 476; Fielding, 438.

Mr. King was elected on what is matter of fact only three votes were taken, this because some of the delegates cast their votes in the third ballot before Hon. George P. Graham had announced his decision to retire, and the ballot was thrown out. There was a similar mix-up when a number of delegates voted before D. D. McKenzie retired. As a result, it was decided to take the fourth ballot on No. 5 ballot papers. With the contestants reduced to two in number, the interest in the final vote was intense.

On motion of Mr. Fielding, seconded by Mr. Graham and supported by Mr. McKenzie, the election of Mr. King was made unanimous. The delegates rose in a body, cheering wildly for several minutes.

Prohibition Question.

While the ballots were being counted the following resolution, moved by Mrs. Bentley and seconded by Mrs. Ball, of St. Thomas, Ontario, was carried:

"Whereas, the regulation, restriction and prohibition of sale of intoxicating liquors within their several jurisdictions is vested in the provinces, this Convention is firmly of the opinion that when, for the effective enforcement of restrictive or prohibitive

Speaking on the resolution, Mrs. Bentley said that political parties had played peek-a-boo with the question of prohibition. They had taken a valiant and firm stand on the top of the fence. They had hurried to the water wagon, and when they got there they almost fell into a fit of hydrophobia. The women of the country were looking to the Liberal Party for a firm stand, and she considered the resolution as submitted to be satisfactory.

Soldiers' Dependents.

A resolution in regard to soldiers' dependents, moved by Colonel Ralston and seconded by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, was carried.

Col. Ralston said the question was how best the returned soldier could be put back into civil life. The Government had recognized that the cash grants were not sufficient.

He argued that the simplicity of the cash grant idea was one important reason for its adoption. It would make unnecessary for the great army of officials and clerks now employed in re-establishing the soldiers. It also would satisfy the soldiers, who objected to having their private business pried into by Government employees. As far as the cost was concerned, he could not say just what it would be, but he did not think it would be unreasonable.

The soldiers, said Colonel Ralston, had realized the great importance of education and were anxious to obtain it. He said it would be a good thing to utilize the universities, which were idle during three or four months in the summer, for soldiers' courses. Practical business courses would prove of great value to a large number of men.

He will be a worthy successor to Mackenzie, Blake and Laurier."

He is a young man, younger than any of his predecessors when they were called upon to lead the party. He is a man of culture and wide information, of unusual experience in public affairs, who should bring not only to the party, but to Parliament, much needed information, particularly on social affairs.

Tariff.

"The Convention probably made the wisest selection. Though Mr. King has not been very definite in his expression of his views on the tariff, he is sufficient of a student of economics to have little sympathy with the Tory viewpoint."

"He is a young man who should bring new life to the Liberal Party. Mr. King is up to date, is a broad student of affairs, has a speaking acquaintance with all of the problems of modern times. He is a competent young man, who undertakes his great responsibility with the best wishes of practically all the Liberals in Canada."

Dr. Clark's Opinion.

Calgary, Aug. 8.—Informed of the election of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King as Leader of the Dominion Liberal party, Dr. Michael Clark, M. P. for Red Deer, said:

"He is a young man with all the advantages that youth brings, a man of culture that will lend him dignity in the new position, but a man who has scarcely the magnetism essential in a great leader. I do not know what his views on the tariff have been, as I have never heard him definitely express them. He has advanced labor ideas that will be valuable."

THE NEW LEADER.

Although the role of a party chieftain is new to W. L. Mackenzie King, the choice of the Convention at Ottawa yesterday, he has had an unusually wide and diversified experience in public affairs. For eight years Deputy Minister of Labor, three years Minister of Labor and Member of Parliament, member of numerous Royal Commissions investigating social and economic questions, special representative of the Dominion in adjusting important international difficulties, journalist, author, essayist, and lecturer on political-economic problems on which he is a well-known authority, his public career has been exceptionally comprehensive, particularly in view of the fact that he has not yet completed his forty-fifth year.

It can accurately be said that the new leader was virtually cradled in public life. The grandson of William Lyon Mackenzie, after whom he is named, he manifested an intense interest in political questions from his boyhood and his exceptional educational training on this continent and abroad gave him an enviable complete foundation for a public career. His bent always has been in the direction of social and economic problems, with a special predilection for questions affecting labor, and when the Department of Labor was organized in 1900 it was not surprising that Sir William Mulock, Postmaster-General, to whom the new branch of the public service, was attached, should select him as Deputy Minister and the actual executive head, although he was then only 26 years of age.

Mr. King remained Deputy Minister of Labor under both Sir William Mulock and the Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, and when the Department was given a separate status and a Minister of its own in 1908 he was chosen for the portfolio, resigning as Deputy Minister and successfully running for North Waterloo. During his term of service as Deputy Minister he personally acted as conciliator in numerous industrial disputes, many of which brought him to British Columbia, with whose economic conditions he is unusually well acquainted.

As Minister Mr. King was less free to participate personally in the settlement of these questions, but developed an excellent departmental organization which during his administration had a highly satisfactory record. He made several trips abroad on behalf of the Canadian Government in connection with the immigration question, notably to India and London, negotiating an agreement affecting Hindu immigration which, by the way, was rearranged by the present Administration last year and announced as a brand new achievement of conspicuous statesmanship. It is no secret that Mr. King was the chief author of the Industrial Disputes Act which, for a time at any rate, operated with signal success in the settlement of disputes between labor and capital in the Dominion. The appointment of the Royal Commission on Technical Education to recommend ways and means of establishing a nation-wide system of technical education also was instigated by him, although, unhappily, the Department of Labor was in other hands when the Commission's report was submitted, Mr. Crothers promptly relegating this most instructive and useful work to the rubbish heap.

The new leader is an able parliamentarian and an excellent speaker both in the House and on the platform. He has been charged with possessing an excess of personal ambition and his critics are not confined to his political opponents. But even if the charge be well founded, whatever fault it implies, if fault it is, is common enough in gifted people who have won their political spurs early in life and have achieved uncommon prominence before they have reached their prime. Time and continual responsibility usually correct such idiosyncracies. It is much more important that his integrity and devotion to his country never have been questioned.

The chief element of importance in the appointment of a party leader in these critical times, however, is much more than the mere function of selection or the personality and qualifications of the person selected. It lies, as well, very much in the policy and principles the leader stands for. Mr. King is not the leader of a Liberal Party because a convention so designates and labels him. What he is and what his party is can be determined only by the policy they advocate, and carry into effect when they have the opportunity. If, notwithstanding the platform adopted by the Convention, Mr. King allows political expediency to influence him in favor of a protective tariff or to compromise with special privilege and reaction he would not be a Liberal leader. He would be a political opportunist, and political expediency, opportunism and strategy are very much in disrepute now; their utter futility is common knowledge. The new leader has a splendid opportunity for high national service before him and the Canadian people will hope that he will avail himself of that opportunity in a manner entirely worthy of his outstanding talents and ideals.

THE SILENT ALDERMEN.

If the delegation of returned citizens which waited upon the City Council last night expected to convert the aldermen to a more favorable attitude towards the Federal Housing Scheme they must have been disappointed with the result. There was a singular silence on the part of our civic representatives and His Worship's termination of the proceedings with a congratulatory reference to the manner in which the returned men had presented their case was not particularly convincing.

Very considerable emphasis is still placed by the various members of the Council upon the report of the City Solicitor. It has been suggested on more than one occasion that if the report were properly understood there would be less objection taken to the Council's attitude. It is difficult to judge just why the point should be so insistently labored, for it all boils down to the city's interpretation of the agreement. That is to say, the city is required to accept responsibility for a loan of approximately $180,000 at an annual interest of five per cent.

This is the sum and substance of the proposal, and the aldermen hesitate to accept the responsibility because they are under the impression that intending householders will not be able, in some cases, to live up to the obligation into which they would be required to enter. Little mention is made of the fact, however, that as security for the loan the city has the privilege of attaching $180,000 worth of modern house property, or such of it as may be defaulted during the life of the agreement with the purchaser. There is another safeguard; the purchaser must submit himself, if necessary, to further guarantees by way of security, notwithstanding the fact that he is repaying both capital and interest and reducing his liability year by year.

This is the scheme in a nutshell as we understand it. As an incentive to the City Council to adopt the plan there are already known to be more than sixty bona-fide applicants who desire to make a home in Victoria. These are not transient members of the community; they are men who realize that an agreement with the city is just as solemn an instrument as an undertaking given to fight in defence of their country. For that reason intending purchasers under the scheme fail to understand why the aldermen lack belief, not only in the future of their own city, but in the conception of citizenship shared by its former fighting men.

CAPTAIN HOY'S FINE FLIGHT.

Victoria is naturally proud of her own airmen and recognizes in the almost daily exhibitions that local aviators can hold their own against all comers. Nevertheless members of the Victoria branch of the Aerial League will take a good deal of satisfaction from the fact that a Vancouver airman has set a new record in trans-Provincial and trans-Rocky Mountain flight. Captain Hoy has flown from Minoru Park to Calgary in the daylight hours of one day. He made five halts and accomplished his journey of 870 miles in 16 hours and 42 minutes. While the achievement may not strike the average mind as anything out of the ordinary when compared with the constant new records set in Europe, it must be remembered that the British Columbia branches of the Aerial League of Canada are not supplied with machines capable of annihilating space with the tremendous effect of a Vickers-Vimy or a Handley-Page. Before their equipment may be augmented the local branch at least requires a larger membership and the payment of the nominal fee which membership entails.

THE NEW CITY SOLICITOR.

It is satisfactory to note that a Victoria lawyer has been selected for the position of City Solicitor. Mr. Pringle, upon whom the City Council's choice has fallen, will enter upon his duties with a knowledge of local affairs obtained in the course of his practice in this city. We can readily imagine that the duties of a city solicitor demand a thorough grasp of municipal law and an ability to deal with local problems in the best interests of the ratepayers. That the Legislative Committee of the City Council considers Mr. Pringle to possess the necessary qualifications is obvious from its recommendation to the Aldermen as a whole. We, therefore, congratulate the successful candidate upon his appointment.

HOY FLEW FROM COAST TO CALGARY

Vancouver Airman Made Trip in Less than Seventeen Hours

Calgary, Aug. 8.—"Captain Hoy, Vancouver, via the air."

This significant registration on the book at the Palliser Hotel here last evening marked the completion of the first successful flight across the Rocky Mountains from Vancouver to Calgary, the hero of the flight being Captain Ernest C. Hoy, D. F. C., of Vancouver.

Guided by the third of a series of rockets sent up by the Calgary Aero Club, a number of aldermen and three brilliant electric lights turned upward and arranged in the form of the letter "L," Captain Hoy circled above the landing grounds and made a perfect landing at 8:55 last evening amid the cheers of a great crowd of Calgary people. He had made the flight from Vancouver to Calgary in sixteen hours forty-five minutes, one hour and fifteen minutes under scheduled time. As he stepped from his plane, smiling and looking quite fresh after his daring and arduous journey, he was greeted by Acting Mayor McCoubrey and Darker, the president of the Aero Club, who had motored out to Bowness to meet him.

A Demonstration. "I am very glad that I have been able to make the trip," Capt. Hoy said, "as it demonstrates that the crossing of the Rockies can be made without difficulty. The reception which I have been given here to-night is the best I have had anywhere, and I think after this I must say that Calgary hospitality exceeds even that of British Columbia."

The landing arrangements carried out made the landing a simple affair. I had no engine trouble on the way and everything went smoothly from the time I left Vancouver until I landed here. And please tell the people of Calgary that the reception I got here was the best I had at any place along the route.

Carried Letters. Captain Hoy brought with him forty-five letters from Vancouver and various points along the line, among them greetings to the Mayor of Calgary from the Mayors of Vancouver, Cranbrook and Lethbridge, and from the president of the Aerial League of Canada and for the president and secretary of the Calgary Aero Club from the Aerial League.

Immediately after landing Captain Hoy motored to the Palliser Hotel for dinner. The interprovincial flight left Vancouver at 4:15 a. m. yesterday and landed at Vernon at 7:15. He started again at 8:15 and arrived at Grand Forks at 10:24 and at Lethbridge at 6:22 p. m. Captain Hoy was formally entertained at luncheon at the Palliser Hotel at 1:30 p. m. by city officials, the Board of Trade, the Rotary Club, the Kiwanis Club and other organizations.

Hall Met Disaster.

Nelson, Aug. 8.—The coast-to-Calgary flight of Aviator Hoy, of Victoria, came to a sudden and disastrous stop at Creston, B. C., yesterday afternoon. Finding his engine running short of gasoline, he was compelled to make a landing in a hayfield near the mill of the Canyon City Lumber Company, his first stop since leaving Midway. More than an hour was taken getting on the cargo of gasoline and oil, quite a gathering of spectators lending a helping hand at the work. As soon as the power was turned on to resume the trip, engine trouble developed. The plane did not rise more than six feet and with power generating at a rate of about fifty miles an hour, the machine started to descend plunging into an automobile approximately 100 yards from the starting point. The plane went nose-up into the motor car and described a complete somersault, being wrecked completely. The aviator escaped with a few bruises but was drenched with gasoline. The automobile also was smashed almost completely. A woman occupant of the automobile, in hurrying to safety, was grazed by one of the wings of the machine but was not hurt. There was at least a dozen persons in its path when the crash came. Lieut. Hall is salvaging the machine to ship it back to the coast.

qualification. He understands, what so few public men in the Dominion understand, the significance of the labor movements now so urgent all over the world.

The Vancouver Province says: "Instead of taking the more obvious and conservative choice, Mr. Fielding, the Liberals have made a bolder and more interesting venture. They have obtained a man in the prime of life, with good intellectual training and some experience in administration, who has seen a good deal of the world and has made a professional study of one class of public questions."

Montreal Gazette. Montreal, Aug. 8.—Of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, the new Liberal Leader, The Montreal Gazette says: "Presuming that Mr. King is soon returned to Parliament, he will have his future marked out. It is no task to lead an opposition party, and the duties are not made easier when some of the Lieutenants overshadow the chief in length of worthy service and public renown. The causes of Mr. King's strength in the Convention were not such as would necessarily commend him to the representatives in Parliament with whom he will have to act. He was too short a time in Parliament to establish supremacy in the qualities of political generalship and made some mistakes which opponents will not permit him or the public to forget."

"The Union Government, whose fortunes of late have been rather less bright than could have been desired, is to command the forces fighting against it."

Le Canada. Le Canada says: "Mr. King is still young, but he is without doubt the most brilliant man of his generation. In his short career he has shown in the difficult problems of business the proof of his splendid initiative. He has the mind of a leader. He is filled with the spirit of tolerance and justice necessary to unite the different elements of a country such as ours."

Mail and Empire. Toronto, Aug. 8.—Dealing with Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, the new Liberal leader, The Toronto Mail and Empire says: "It is Quebec's choice. Anti-conscription Liberals are still a separate political sect. The Convention called under their auspices elected as the leader of the national Liberal Party one of the most pronounced of their adherents."

"Under such a leader the politicians who held to Sir Wilfrid Laurier will remain a peculiar group between whom and the Liberal-Unionists there can be no rapprochement. The line of demarcation remains as fixed and impassable as it was in 1917. Mr. King can draw from this province no allies of the present opposition."

Saskatoon Star. Saskatoon, Aug. 8.—Of the new Liberal leader The Saskatoon Star says to-day: "It is a surprising choice the Liberal Convention has made, and yet not surprising when one considers the attitude and atmosphere of the Convention. It was a thoroughly Laurier convention. Out of all its opportunities for error perhaps we should say the Liberal Convention did not do badly. But surely the Liberal party in this Dominion is at low ebb when its strongest candidate for the premiership is a man who owes his election to the fact that he opposed conscription."

Lethbridge Herald. Lethbridge, Aug. 8.—"We would much rather trust the tariff to King than to Mackenzie or Graham," says The Lethbridge Herald.

"The Liberal Convention's tariff platform reads well. It is not as advanced as the farmers' platform but it meets it more than half way and there is more likelihood of the Liberals coming into power to put their platform into effect than there is for the farmers to obtain power. The next election ought to see the low tariff forces united to put into effect the Liberal platform."

Edmonton Journal. Edmonton, Aug. 8.—The Edmonton Journal says to-day:

"We do not believe that Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King is the type of a successful party leader, but in politics you never can tell. There are some men who accomplish more while they have large than when they have small responsibilities cast upon them, and Mr. King's tenure of office in a subordinate capacity may be no criterion of what he will do now that he is in the shoes of the man he served when."

Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, C. M. G., M. A., LL.B., Ph.D., chosen by the Liberals as their new leader, has been a conspicuous figure in Canadian national life. He was born December 17, 1874, in Berlin, New Kitchener, Ontario, the son of John King, K. C., a Canadian of Scottish descent, daughter of William Lyon Mackenzie, famous as one of the leaders in the struggle for responsible government in Canada and joint leader with L. J. Papineau in the rebellion of 1837-38.

Mr. King was educated at the public schools and High School of Berlin (Kitchener) the University of Toronto, the University of Chicago, Harvard University and abroad.

In 1898-1900 he acted as a special Commissioner of the Canadian Government to inquire into the methods of carrying out Government clothing contracts in Canada and Europe. In 1903 he was secretary of the Royal Commission which inquired into industrial disputes in British Columbia. In 1907 as a Royal Commissioner, he settled the claims of Japanese residents of Vancouver arising out of Anti-Asian riots there. He acted as a Royal Commissioner in several other cases, and in 1908 was sent as one of the British Commissioners appointed by the Imperial Parliament to attend the sessions of the Anti-Opium Commission which met in Shanghai, China.

Mr. King was elected to the House of Commons for the riding of North Waterloo, Ontario, in the general election of October, 1905. Sir Wilfrid Laurier appointed him Minister of Labor in June, 1909, and he was re-elected in a bye-election during the same month. He met defeat in the general election of 1911, and retired with the Laurier Government.

The new Leader has a comprehensive grasp of social and labor conditions. It is but a few months since he returned from Europe, where he made a personal study of labor and industrial conditions. Following the death of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, when it became necessary to hold a bye-election in Quebec East, Mr. King was mentioned as the possible Liberal candidate. As yet, however, Mr. King has not found a seat.

In religion Mr. King is a Presbyterian.

"My dear sir," said the salesman, courteously, as he handed the customer his package and no change, "you will find that your suit will wear like iron."

And sure enough, it did. The man hadn't worn it two months when it began to look rusty.

FIND NO WAY OF GIVING EMPLOYEES OTHER JOBS

No arrangement whereby two employees dismissed from the City Waterworks Department could be given other jobs was achieved by the Conciliation Committee of the City Council which met yesterday. The committee went into the whole matter, which has caused not a little trouble about the City Hall of late, but could find no way of taking the men back into the civic service. If, however, other vacancies occur, they will be given positions.

MIGHT BE WORSE OFF.

"Thankful! What have I to be thankful for? I can't pay my bills."

THIS WAS IMPORTANT.

He was a very small boy. Paddy was his dog, and Paddy was nearer to his heart than anything on earth. When Paddy met swift and hideous death on the turnpike road the boy's mother trembled to break the news. But it had to be, and when he came home from school she told him simply: "Paddy has been run over and killed." He took it very quietly. All day it was the same. But five minutes after he had gone to bed there echoed through the house a shrill and sudden lamentation. His mother rushed upstairs with solicitude and pity.

"Nurse says," he sobbed, "that Paddy has been run over and killed."

"But, dear, I told you that at dinner, and you didn't seem to be troubled at all."

"No; but—but I didn't know you said Paddy. I—I thought you said daddy!"

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Cheer Flowers

Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
(By Howard B. Garis.)

It rained and it rained and it rained in Woodland, near the Orange Ice Mountains, where Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman, lived in a hollow stump bungalow.

And, after it had rained one, two and three days, it rained one more, making four.

"Dear me!" exclaimed Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper for the rabbit gentleman. "I never saw such dismal weather in all my life! Never! It's so dark and gloomy and rainy that I feel just life sitting down and having a good cry!"

"Oh, don't do that!" begged Uncle Wiggily, as he tried to twinkle his pink nose, cheerful like. "It is wet enough outside without having it made wetter, by tears, inside. Try and be more cheerful! The rain will stop—it always has stopped. Be happy!"

But Nurse Jane shook her head. "I can't be happy," she whimpered. "It rains so much I can't get the clothes dry. I can't go out, nobody comes in, there isn't even a cherry pie to bake. Oh, I am so miserable!"

"Dear me!" said Uncle Wiggily, trying to whistle a cheerful tune. "This will never do! I'll take a hop outside, Nurse Jane, and see if there are any signs of the weather clearing. I'll be back in a little while."

"All right," answered the muskrat lady, in a sad sort of voice.

Putting on overshoes made from leaves of the rubber plant, and holding over his tail silk hat a leaf from the umbrella plant, Uncle Wiggily went out in the rain.

The rabbit gentleman had not hoped very far, for, splashing his way through the puddles, before he met Grandfather Goosey Gander, the goose gentleman. Grandpa Goosey was splashing his way through the rain as if he liked it.

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily!" he quacked. "How are you this beautiful, ducky weather?"

"Oh, I'm all right!" answered the bunny. "But Nurse Jane is very sad and gloomy."

"Why so?" asked Grandpa Goosey, as he poked his yellow bill down in a mud puddle to see if any snails were swimming about. "Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy used to be so glad and cheerful like."

"I know," answered Uncle Wiggily. "But this rain, lasting so long, makes her feel bad. She needs something to cheer her up."

"Why don't you take her some flowers?" asked Grandpa Goosey. "Bring her a bouquet of flowers, Uncle Wiggily. You'll find they will make her feel much brighter, so she won't mind the rain, or even a thunder storm."

"What kind of flowers?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Would you say wild carrots, such as I took to Susie as a lace

Dr. Carruthers, who is superintendent of the hospital at Cumberland, is the son of well known Vancouver residents, his father being Dr. James Carruthers, a professor at Westminster Hall, and pastor of West Point Grey Presbyterian Church. Dr. Stuart Carruthers has only recently returned from overseas, where he was severely shell-shocked. He took charge of the hospital at Cumberland about six weeks ago.

Discolored or Spotted Skin Easily Peeled Off

The freckling, discolored or roughening to which most skins are subject at this season may readily be gotten rid of. Ordinary mercurized wax, spread lightly over the face before retiring and removed in the morning with soap and water, completely peels off the disfiguring skin. You need not get more than an ounce of the wax from your druggist.

There's no more of the old-fashioned tan, freckles, liver spots, moth patches, or other cutaneous defects. Minute, almost invisible, skin particles come off each day, so the process itself doesn't even temporarily mar the complexion, and you soon acquire a brand new, spotless, girlishly beautiful face.

handkerchief present? Would those flowers do for Nurse Jane?"

"No," answered Grandpa Goosey, splashing a little water over his back to stop a tickling place. "Those flowers wouldn't do at all for Nurse Jane. What you want are cheer flowers."

"Cheer flowers!" exclaimed the bunny. "I never heard of them."

"I'll show you where some are growing," spoke Grandpa Goosey. "Pick three or four of them and Nurse Jane won't mind the rain then."

So, Grandpa Goosey showed Uncle Wiggily where the cheer flowers grew. They were large, yellow ones, on tall stalks, so high, in fact, that Uncle Wiggily had to gnaw them down with his teeth, as he couldn't break them off in his paws.

"Do you mind if I take some of you home to cheer up Nurse Jane?" asked the bunny of the flowers, as he nodded their heads in the rain.

"Oh, no! That's what we're for," they answered. "We are here to make the world more cheerful and brighter."

Uncle Wiggily was gnawing down one big, round yellow flower, when all at once, the bad old Skeezicks popped out from under a bush, and tried to grab the bunny from behind.

"Oh, ho! No you don't! Leave Uncle Wiggily alone!" whispered the cheer flowers. And some of them rattled a lot of hard, brown seeds on the Skeezicks.

"Oh, it's hailing!" howled the bad chap, as he ran away. "This is no place for me!"

So, the Skeezicks let Uncle Wiggily alone, and the bunny picked more of the big, round yellow flowers. He took them home to Nurse Jane through the rain.

"Grandpa Goosey says you will be happy now, even in the storm," said Uncle Wiggily, as he gave the bouquet to Nurse Jane. "These are cheer flowers."

"Cheer flowers! Why they are old-fashioned sun flowers!" laughed the muskrat lady. "But I do feel better already. If we can't see the real sun, looking at sun flowers is almost as good." So she put the cheer blossoms in a vase and, in about an hour the rain stopped, the sun came out and Nurse Jane was happier than ever.

So this teacher is that whenever we are sad we should bring cheer flowers to some one else. And if the goldfish doesn't take all the seed out of the canary bird's bath tub to plant in the cat's cradle, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the Zoop.

GRADUATES' CLASS AT DELIGHTFUL DANCE

St. Joseph's 1919 Class Hostesses at Alexandra Club Last Night

Nearly four hundred dancers contributed to the success of the dance given at the Alexandra Club last night, under the auspices of the 1919 graduating class of St. Joseph's Hospital and in aid of the new children's ward. A lovely profusion of scarlet and white carnations, representing the class colors, intermingled with spiraea and ferns, transformed the ballroom into a bower of flowers, and added to the charm of the gay scene.

Mrs. Angus Campbell, Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, Mrs. Frank Sehl and Mrs. Alex. McDermott were the lady patronesses, while the graduates who organized the affair included Miss Mabel Edgar, Miss Bessie Middleton, Miss Helen Wallace, Miss Rita Marwood, Miss Gladys Croft, Miss Nellie Gannon, Miss Jeannette McEwen, Miss Winnifred Willocks, Miss Meagher and Miss Knox.

Members of the medical profession and a large number of returned nursing sisters were among those who danced to the strains of music furnished by Heaton's orchestra. Shortly before midnight a delicious buffet supper was served in the downstairs cafe, where the decorative scheme of the ballroom was repeated with charming effect.

No more fitting memorial could be erected by any community to the men who engaged in the mighty campaign for freedom than the erection and maintenance of such institutions as health centres. By the means of these institutions the inheritance which they defended with such loving prodigality of life is amplified and enriched by the truest reforms which this testing time of the nation has shown to be necessary. The movement to erect a health centre at Saanich is only a part of that greater movement which is ushering in the "Golden Age of Public Health," when preventable disease will be prevented, when motherhood will be raised to a position in keeping with the sacred office it fills, and when it will be recognized that every child has a right to as much health as present knowledge affords.

Slaves to Defects

The promoters and supporters of this work are only carrying the patriotic idea a little further and emphasizing the fact that the sacrifice was not in vain; that out of the magnificent comradeship of the trenches, where men of all ranks stood shoulder to shoulder and died side by side for this great cause, a new and nobler nation shall arise—a nation where not fifty per cent. are physically unfit, but one hundred per cent. are fit. There is a direct relation between the figures of the school health officer and those of the military health officer, a most significant relation, where the figures correspond almost identically.

the offices of the public health nurses, any preventable disease or epidemic as far as is at present possible, to afford accommodation to maternity patients, and provide a clinic for infants and children, more especially those children who have been found through the school health officer to be suffering from removable defects which retard their progress in school and, as shown by military statistics, handicap in later life.

Mens Sano in Corpore Sano

The object is not the promote the education but the health of the children, but as health is the condition precedent to success in education and in every other activity, it will prove an immense advantage to have children physically fitted to receive and profit by instruction given in the schools—not to mention the infinitely more important question of the well-being of the child itself and, therefore, of the state.

The expenditure may at first sight seem large, but it is the most remunerative investment that the municipality can make. Health is always cheaper than disease, and prevention more remunerative than cure. It is the most patriotic action possible at the present or any other time, for this is the only true reform, the only sure building of the future, the direct result of which will be—as has been stated—a new and nobler nation worthy of the sacrifice of the flower of our manhood.

DR. MACLEAN SPOKE TO SUMMER STUDENTS

At Closing Banquet at High School Last Night; Many Toasts

Concluding a five-weeks' session of close application to study, the teachers and staff of the Provincial Summer School last night held their closing banquet at the High School. About two hundred covers were laid for the affair which was held in the gymnasium, and the lavish display of bunting around the galleries and the floral decorations of the tables with their masses of Dorothy Perkins roses and tall palms gave an air of festivity to the scene.

Dr. MacLean's "First Love." J. W. Gibson presided as chairman, and Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Education, and Dr. Robinson, Superintendent of Education, were the guests of honor. Dr. MacLean, who was called upon to reply to the toast of "Canada and Our Province," proposed by Duncan Welch, in a happy little speech made humorous reference to his own teaching days of twenty-odd years ago. Declaring teaching to be his first love in British Columbia, he claimed to recognize in the assembly a number of the pupils whom he had taught. He paid warm tribute to the men and women who had given many years to the education of the younger generation and welcomed the newcomers to the profession.

Wonderful Heritage. Canada was a country of vast possibilities and vast resources, continued the speaker, emphasizing the different branches of the country's natural wealth. "It is a wonderful heritage that we Canadians have. You, as the teachers of this new province, are the leaders of the great mass of public opinion and unless you are fully cognizant of the greatness of this heritage how can you implant in the rising generation a true love of country?"

Dr. MacLean congratulated the staff and teacher-students of the Summer School upon the excellent work accomplished and voiced the Provincial Government's warm sympathy with the movement.

Many Toasts. The growing lateness of the hour caused Dr. Robinson to confine his response to the toast of "The Education Department" to a few words of appreciation of the eulogy conferred upon the department by Miss Cruickshank, proposer of the toast.

Other toasts on the list were "The Empire's Forces and Our Soldiers," ably proposed by Miss Lyle Whelan and responded to by Augustus Devereux and John H. Watson, both returned soldiers; and "Our Guests," proposed by Miss Butcher and responded to by Dr. Julius Arp. In a brilliantly witty little speech Mme. Sanderson-Mongin paid tribute to "The Staff," and John Kyle, who was called upon to respond, declared himself "shortcircuited" by her eulogistic eloquence and confined himself to a brief expression of thanks on behalf of the staff.

Vocal Numbers. Vocal solos were interpolated by Miss Olga Lambert, who sang "When the Birds Go North Again," with much charm, and Mr. Butterworth, who rendered "Mother of Mine," "The National Anthem," "Rule Britannia" and "O Canada" were sung by the diners, "Auld Lang Syne" marking the conclusion of the more formal proceedings. Mr. Marriage officiated as accompanist.

The clearing away of the tables was the signal for dancing, which was kept up until a late hour.

THE VALUE OF PUBLICITY.

To the Editor:—An article from your editorial columns of an issue of recent date, calling attention to the greatly increased tourist travel to Victoria as being responsible, in part, for the substantial increase in bank clearings, is dictated along the right lines. The sound argument expressed cannot be too strongly emphasized.

The value of tourist travel as an ultimate promoter of industrial development has been recognized by progressive communities for years, and the most has been made of this medium for the upbuilding of city and back country by such cities as Denver, Los Angeles, Fresno, Stockton and many others with ocular results. As a case in point the writer recently met in Victoria a wealthy gentleman from the state of Washington who had just finished an auto tour of the Island, and he expressed himself as being struck particularly by the favorable conditions—climatic and otherwise—for sheep-raising on the Island on an extensive scale. He proposed to return within a month or so with a practical sheep man and go fully into the question.

This is merely one illustration of the result of tourist propaganda, and the people of Victoria and the Island municipalities should be made aware of the fact that their contribution to the fund for publicity work through the medium of the Victoria and Island Development Association goes beyond the mere inducement of the transient tourist.

Another case before me is that of a gentleman from Spokane—a tourist to Victoria—who for some years has been interested in inducing settlers from some of the western states to Alberta. He had heard of the possibilities for mixed farming in British Columbia, and particularly of the raising of the favorable climatic conditions, and he proposed interviewing the departments of lands and agriculture before leaving, with the purpose in view of securing some available tracts for settlement. This may be quoted as another direct result of our tourist propaganda.

If the people of Vancouver Island as a whole would more fully realize the far-reaching results of good publicity work that will bring the tourist to our shores there would be no hesitancy in

RE THE JOY-KILLER BY-LAW.

To the Editor:—It was with mingled feelings of contempt and disgust that I read in your issue of the 5th inst. the $25 penalty clause attaching to the ordinance fathered by Ald. Patrick to banish from the streets roller skates, skooters, tricycles, "and so on."

I suppose the "and so on" also includes baby buggies, suikes, go-carts and any other form of vehicle which may be used for infant and juvenile transportation, and having accomplished this, I suppose they will turn their attention to adults and bar the bicycle too.

Let me ask the fathers of the City Council to wake up and take the sand out of their eyes; to remember that we are now passing through a period of reconstruction, and not reconstruction; further, when they can possibly spare the time from legislating against innocent juvenile amusement, to reflect a little on the Johnson Street Bridge, Rock Bay Bridge, the road pavement between Point Ellice Bridge and Springfield Street, and other matters more important to the city of Victoria.

In other words, cut out their childish nonsense and get down to a man's job.

I see there are at least four sensible fathers on the Council, and I would ask the seven majority voters to reflect a little between now and next Monday and take Ald. Sargent's advice and knock this silly by-law out head over heels. Otherwise the parents and taxpayers of Victoria will see to it that they are knocked out at the next municipal election.

Gentlemen of the City Council take the hint, gentlemen, hands off!

Victoria I would say, get down to the City Council Chamber of Mysteries next Monday and tell the Council that your children have as much right to use the streets of Victoria, as have these city embryonic lawyers, with their Prussian sense of fair play. I have two boys myself, and they are going to use the city streets for amusement purposes and exercise (excepting the downtown streets) and I shall defy the City Council to put them off. Sensible parents do not allow their children to use roller skates on the streets, but as far as my children and their velocipedes are concerned on the side streets of this city, I say, gentlemen, hands off!

Week-Old Corns Should Be Unthinkable

These positive facts are now known to millions. The pain of a corn can be instantly stopped, and forever.

The corn itself can be ended completely, and usually in two days. The method is scientific. It consists of attaching a Blue-jay plaster, forgetting the corn, and letting things take their course.

The results have been proved by experience.

They have been proved to so many people that corns are now comparatively uncommon.

Corn aches are needless. Paring corns is folly. Old-time harsh and messy treatments have no place today.

You will know these facts, and quickly, if you'll try a Blue-jay on one corn. Do it tonight, and the whole corn question will settle itself forever.

TEACHERS' EXHIBIT AT SUMMER SCHOOL

Display By Art, Manual Training and Needlework Classes Much Admired

Tangible evidence of the excellent work accomplished by the teachers during their five weeks session just closing at the Summer School was shown in the comprehensive display of work at the High School yesterday. The exhibit was arranged on the second floor, practically all of the class rooms being pressed into service for the display, and many visitors took advantage of the opportunity to view the collection.

Of a high standard of excellence was the work of the students of the advanced art class, beauty of line and coloring being among the prominent characteristics. Nature's beauties had been copied, and skillfully and artistically adapted for use in the various forms of craftsmanship. Pictures of still life exemplified the beauty of form and color in every-day use.

The manual training classes, which include a number of returned soldiers, featured a collection showing finished workmanship, coupled with graceful lines. Articles of furniture and bric-a-brac of every description were included in the varied collection.

The majority of the men were skilled craftsmen who took the course to acquire the principles of teaching. A smaller group of exhibits represented the work of teachers who were taking up manual training for the first time with a view to teaching the rudiments of the art in the schools in the more remote rural districts.

In the various branches of metal work, needlework and manual arts, the generally high standard was well maintained and reflected the originality of design which was the leading characteristic of the whole exhibit.

In no more striking and effective way could the value of a co-related training of the eye and hand and brain be shown than by this exhibit of work by the teachers of the schools of British Columbia.

This morning saw the final session of the school and many of the teachers will be leaving for their homes during the week-end.

G. W. V. A. IS NOT CIRCULATING PETITION FOR $2,500 GRATUITY

A steady stream of men flows into the office of the G.W.V.A. daily to sign a petition asking the Government for $2,500 as a gratuity for services rendered during the Great War.

No such petition is being circulated by the G.W.V.A. neither is the preparation of one contemplated. At the Dominion convention, held in Vancouver during the first week in July, the gratuity question was discussed thoroughly by representatives from every portion of the Dominion, and as a result a commission, composed of members of the House of Commons and a representative committee of the G.W.V.A. is being formed to consider the question in all its details. The G.W.V.A., whilst endorsing the principle of a cash payment as the best means of rehabilitating the returned men, recognizes the rights of the people, and suggests that the payment be limited by the ability of the country to pay without imposing an impossible burden on the people. It is fully recognized that it would be unjust, unfair, and impracticable to demand a fixed sum without knowing if the financial status of the country would warrant such a demand.

The gratuity question is in capable hands and no petition will be forwarded by the G.W.V.A. It is hoped that those who are unacquainted with the facts will accept this statement and save the secretary time and trouble in explaining the situation to each individual caller.

RECEPTION PLANS DISCUSSED FURTHER

Interesting Programme Arranged For Visit of Editorial Association

Further arrangements for the reception and entertainment of the National Editorial Association delegates who will visit Victoria on August 18 and 19, were considered at a meeting of the various committees in charge in the offices of the Victoria and Island Development Association last night. The chief theme of discussion was the question of hotel accommodation for the various editors, this matter being left in the hands of Publicity Commissioner W. A. McAdam.

Some alterations in the convention programme were made. It was decided that on Monday morning, August 18, the arrangements would be as follows: Reception of party and election of officers; 12:15 sharp, luncheon for the gentlemen of the party at the Royal Victoria Theatre to take the form of a box luncheon, with songs and motion pictures showing the industries of the Island; simultaneously luncheon for the ladies of the party in the Grill Room of the Empress Hotel, both luncheons being in charge of the Victoria and Island Development Association; auto tour with tea at the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butchart at Brentwood.

The editors will be entertained at a dinner in the evening by The Victoria Colonist at the Alexandra Club, where they will be addressed by Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, J. C. McIntosh, M.P., and John Cochrane. Mrs. MacDonald Fahey and James Hunter are arranging musical items, and appropriate songs are being composed by E. J. Down. A dance in the Empress Hotel ballroom, when the visitors will be the guests of The Times, will commence at ten o'clock. An international water gala will be staged for the benefit of the editors at the Gorge by the Victoria and Island Athletic Association on Tuesday morning, when the editors will also be given an opportunity of seeing some of the industrial resources and wealth of the Island.

The Aerial League of Canada has offered to carry a limited number of passengers from the convention to give them some idea of the beauties of the Island as seen from the air. As transportation will be one of the chief problems in connection with the convention, all who are willing to offer their automobiles are requested to telephone 2777.

H. F. PRINGLE WILL BE CITY SOLICITOR

Well-known Local Lawyer Chosen to Fill Important
Civic Post

H. F. Pringle was chosen by the City Council in secret session last night for the position of City Solicitor, which will be vacated at the end of the month by R. W. Hannington.

The selection of Mr. Pringle for the important civic post was achieved by a process of elimination, after several ballots had been cast. Nine other candidates desired the position, all but two of them local men. There was one applicant from Vancouver and one from Calgary.

Mr. Pringle will assume his new duties at the beginning of September, but in the meantime he will confer with Mr. Hannington on many important legal matters which are pending at present. The monthly salary provided by the Council last night for Mr.
Pringle is $300. Mr. Hannington has been receiving $350 since the finding of the Burns Arbitration Board was enforced.

Before engaging in his profession here Mr. Pringle was a member of the High School faculty. As a lawyer he is well known in this city and latterly has been the senior partner of the firm of Pringle & Whittaker, Central Building. Recently he made a trip to Pekin, China on legal business.

den, who is leaving shortly for eign connections. He expects to develop sufficient trade for Canadian manufacturers to warrant the inauguration of special shipping services.

Mr. Sladen left this afternoon for the East.

YARROWS REPAIR PLANE

Damaged Pathfinder Removed to Esquimaux — Tourist Are Taking in Flying Cruise.

A contract has been awarded by the Aerial League to Yarrows to repair the aeroplane Pathfinder I, which was so seriously damaged at Vancouver a couple of months ago. The machine was taken from the Willowes aerodrome to the Esquimaux shipyards this afternoon. This is the first time that a contract has been awarded in this city for repairs to an aeroplane. The Pathfinder will be in service in about a month.

The Pathfinder II, made a number of flights yesterday. A number of visitors in this city are taking in the aerial cruises. Miss Marjorie Lane, who is staying at the Empress, was one of the passengers yesterday. Miss E.
Wrigglesworth and Miss M. Stuart-
Robertson also flew.

One of the Vancouver machines came over yesterday afternoon piloted by Lieut. "Minty" McDonald. He had as a passenger A. E. Sayers, who came over on business.

HOUSING COMMITTEE MEETING VETERANS

Three Soldier Representatives to Talk Over Housing Scheme With Aldermen

As a result of the meeting of the War Veterans with the City Council last evening a conference will be held on Monday morning next between the Housing Committee of the Council and three delegates from the veterans.
Arrangements have been made to hold a meeting to-morrow evening at 7.30 o'clock in the G. W. V. A. rooms, Fort Street, of all men interested in the Housing Scheme for the purpose of appointing three delegates to meet the council. Dr. Bapty, chairman of the delegation, requests that all the men who attended the meeting last night, as well as any others interested, will be present.

The Housing Committee of the council consists of Aldermen Patrick, Sangster and Johns. They will discuss with the three veterans the report of City Solicitor Hannington, and point out further the heavy responsibility which rests upon the city. On the other hand, the soldier representatives will be able to challenge the statements of the aldermen, and argue on the benefits which the city will gain from accepting the scheme as well as showing to the soldier in a practical manner the thanks which Victoria has so often extended verbally.

At the meeting last evening the veterans did not enter into any discussion with the aldermen, simply presented their case as plainly as possible.

LIBEL ACTION REVIVED

Writ Issued in Supreme Court Here Against Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis.

Reviving the famous libel action brought in New York some years ago against Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, D.
D., the pastor of Plymouth Church,
Brooklyn, a writ has been issued out of the Supreme Court here by Harry
M. Hillis, nephew of the noted pastor.
The trouble arises out of the publication of statements in The Brooklyn Eagle alleged to have been instigated by the defendant, wherein it was stated that the failure of the Hillis Logging Company, which was managed here by H. M. Hillis and his brother, was due to misconduct of the Hillis brothers.

It is stated that Mr. Hillis had arranged to invest some of the church funds in the logging venture, and that when the company went into liquidation during the financial panic of 1907, Dr. Hillis explained to the creditors that the loss had been sustained through his nephew's misconduct of the business.

Dr. Hillis was in Victoria early last week en route to the South. H. H.
Shandley is representing the plaintiff and F. C. Elliott entered the appearance for the defendant on behalf of his solicitors, Livingston & O'Dell, of Vancouver.

BANQUET FOR CURRIE

Arrangements Completed For Grand Function Which Is to Be Tendered Famous Warrior.

Arrangements for the grand banquet to be tendered Lieut.-Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, commander-in-chief of the Canadian forces, were practically completed at a meeting of the British Campaigners' Association held last evening. No decision as to the date was decided upon owing to the uncertainty of the time of the general's arrival here. The association hopes to settle the date at a meeting to be held on Monday evening.

It is expected that 1,000 people will attend the banquet, which is to be held in the armories. Rev. C. Comyn-Ching, the famous Anglican orator from the mainland, will be here to deliver the main address of the evening. He was one of the most famous chaplains in France.

Passed a Street Car — Edward Holmes was fined $10 in the police court this morning for passing a street car which had stopped to take on passengers.

POSITIONS AND RETURNED SOLDIERS.

To the Editor:—The proceedings of the City Council last night again suggest that in order that returned soldiers should know where they are, the regular authorities should "come out into the open and officially put up the sign, "Returned Soldiers Not Wanted."

Some years ago, public money was poured out like water by the City Council, largely for the benefit of speculators; but now the City Council refuses to aid in providing homes for returned soldiers who have been crowded out by new-comers, because the grant is wrapped round with conditions insuring the money being properly spent. The advantage of attaching a further body of residents to the city is such an obvious asset to the community, and the extra accommodation would have such an unquestionable influence on the rapidly rising rents, that the only explanation is, Victoria does not want returned soldiers.

Again, last night, although there were four returned soldier applicants of, at least, equal qualifications to the successful candidate, a young and very junior lawyer was chosen, who had not been overseas; although in this case the reason probably was that the salary attached to the position is less than that fixed by the Arbitration Board a year ago, as being an adequate remuneration for the important services required. And the cost of living has risen since then.

Only the other day I met a returned soldier whom I knew overseas, who, owing to the opposition of his former departmental chief, had been unable to get back his position in the Parliament building. He went away early and did not return until it was all over, and did remarkably well. His offence was that he had been away too long.

For nearly two years the Soldier Settlement Board in Victoria has been dealing with applications for land. All the legal work connected therewith has been sent, and is still being sent, to lawyers who have not been overseas.

Instances could be multiplied indefinitely; and I think it would be of

PHONOGRAPHS

Such an immense order of one make of phonograph expresses the confidence we place in the Sonora—the world's best phonograph.

And it is the world's best phonograph. Not because we say it is, but because the competent judges at the Panama Pacific Exposition passed on its merits and awarded the Sonora the highest award.

—Because since then the popularity of the Sonora Phonograph has been phenomenal.

—Its wonderful tone and handsome case architecture are not equaled in any other instrument.

—The motor of the Sonora is of surpassing strength and quietness, and at one winding plays considerably longer than any other phonograph motor yet devised.

—The Sonora plays all makes of disc records.

Before you purchase any make of phonograph, be sure you see and hear the Sonora. You will not regret it.

EXPLAINS OBJECTS OF NEW ASSOCIATION

Major A. Mulcahy Tells Why Esquimalt Ratepayers Organized

There is no intimation of an unfriendly attitude towards the present Esquimalt Council in the formation of the Esquimalt Ratepayers Association, according to Major A. Mulcahy, its temporary chairman. The recent meeting in the Rex theatre was merely for the purpose of forming an organization that would keep track of the expenditure of the taxes assessed.

Some of the Esquimalt taxpayers seem to think that the taxation is abnormal in the district, and that no particular public works are apparent as a result of the taxation outside of the sewerage work.

"There is no personal feeling against any of the members of the Council. It is only an expression of feeling against the high taxation. The association was formed with a view of bringing pressure to bear on the Council to curtail its expenditure where non-essentials are concerned. If the Council could show a lot of useful public works as the result of the expenditures, it would be a different thing," said Major Mulcahy.

"Since Esquimalt became a municipality, outside of the sewerage work carried out by the Council and the Lamson Street school building built by the School Board, there has been no public improvements of any nature worth talking about," he continued.

At the first meeting of the ratepayers one speaker pointed out that when the district was unorganized his taxes were $14 and he is now paying over $100 in taxes, but he has nothing to show for the difference in taxation. There are a considerable number of ratepayers now on the association membership roll. Another meeting has been called for August 18 in the Rex theatre, when a committee will be elected and a permanent chairman and other officers named.

ESQUIMALT ROAD IS RECEIVING TREATMENT

Improvement Will Be of Great Benefit to Residents of Township

The improvement of the Esquimalt Road, which is now in hand, will be a great benefit to the Township. Heavy traffic to the city from the Navy Yard, the graving docks, and the plants round Lang Cove during the war cut up the trunk thoroughfare rather badly, and the present improvements will be very welcome. With the exception of the gap near Point Ellice Bridge the district has been well served so far as the city portion was concerned, but immediately the boundary was reached strangers realized violently the transition to another municipality. Owing to the length of the trunk thoroughfare it has been considered wiser to proceed with improving portions of the road first.

The proposal to secure a new right of way through the Pottery property will, it is claimed, save a detour of about a mile. The roads which cross the valley between Craigflower and Esquimalt roads give access to a valuable portion of the municipality which is certain to be the scene of much industrial development in the future, and the improvement of access in this section will be heartily appreciated by a large number of residents.

ORGANIZE BRANCH OF BOYS' NAVAL BRIGADE

Esquimalt Subdivision Was Formed Last Night; Volunteers Enlisted

Organization of an Esquimalt company of the Boys' Naval Brigade took place at a meeting held last night under the auspices of the Navy League. J. J. Shallcross occupied the chair, and described the future of the Naval Brigade at Esquimalt. Lieut. Hotham outlined the work of the boys, calling for volunteers. The entire audience responded, and were enrolled immediately, except for the smaller boys, who will not be allowed to enlist until they have obtained the consent of their parents.

There will be a full division of the Boys' Naval Brigade now, consisting of four subdivisions. Formation of one subdivision at Esquimalt and James Bay, which has seventy-five recruits, is already completed. Two other subdivisions will be organized as soon as arrangements for their control can be completed.

The full strength of a company or subdivision will be 100, and recruits for the companies already formed will be accepted now. Lieut. Hotham will command the division, and Lieut. Legge-Willis will act as first lieutenant. Application for membership should be made at the offices of the Victoria branch of the Navy League in the Pemberton Building.

The following boys had the honor of being the first to become members, have enrollment taking place last night: J. Holder, R. Johnson, D. Pearson, W. Gardner, R. Sinton, C. Nicol, A. Scott, D. Giese, R. Stewart, F. Stratford, A. Hodgson, E. Gardner, G. Conway, G. Billington, J. Craig, J. Hodson, L. Nicol, A. Robinson, H. Nicol and King.

IS COMMENDED.

The War Shrine at Esquimalt is coming in for a good deal of commendation from veteran organizations, and a fine picture of the shrine appears in "The Gold Stripe" a publication to which the Esquimalt Council at its last meeting made a grant, the proceeds going to the requirements of the Amputation Club of B. C.

CURIOUS CO-INCIDENCE.

The Canadians at the discharge depot at Buxton have a church parade every Sunday to the Hippodrome, which is exactly opposite the parish church. The Canadian service concludes just before the service at the parish church opens. The other Sunday, says the Canadian Associated Press, the Canadians had formed up in the street after service, in readiness for the return march to the depot, and Col. Hanson took the opportunity to present two of the men with Distinguished Conduct Medals earned in the field.

Meanwhile in the parish church hard by, the congregation, at the very moment that Col. Hanson called for cheers for the winners of the D.C.M., were reciting the General Confession. The result was striking: "We have followed too much the devices of our own hearts" (loud cheers); "We have left undone those things that we ought to have done" (cheers); and we have done those things that we ought not to have done" (cheers).

FALL WEED CAMPAIGN

Practical Advice to Farmers.

The control and destruction of weeds is one of the most important problems on the farm. It is not within the scope of a short article to enumerate the various dangers and ill-effects, or the decrease in yields and profits, which are the inevitable results where weeds are allowed to run wild. Suffice it to say that farms overrun by weeds have been, in some instances, abandoned in despair. It is considerably more expensive to fight the weeds in the growing crops than to eradicate the same during the fall work. It necessitates an undue amount of hard hand-work, making any farming operation a poor commercial proposition. Start while the weeds are young, when they are still are sprouting seeds. Nip them in the bud, fight them when their vitality is low.

Good Mellow Seedbed.

Clever sod is an excellent forerunner to next year's hoed crops, such as corn, roots, potatoes, tomatoes and other vegetables. The best method to handle the land is to plough it in two different stages, the first ploughing—breaking furrow—should be done some time during

July or August and to a depth of not more than three to four inches. The soil at this time is generally hard and dry, and for this very reason it is advisable to follow the plough with the packer, roller or the disc. The object of the discing is not to tear up the sod, but rather to firm the land. On this account the disc should not be set too cut, but should be run lengthways with the furrow. By such treatment close connection is established between the subsoil and the sod, and the decomposition of the latter is hastened. The ground is left intact until such time when the sod may be worked safely, which generally takes from a fortnight to three weeks. Subsequent discing, harrowing and rolling will establish a fine mellow seedbed. "But that makes the weeds grow," true, and that is just what is wanted. By repeated discing, harrowing and rolling at intervals the young weed-seedlings are killed as fast as they appear. The second ploughing—lap furrow—to a depth of five to seven inches or more just before frost sets in, terminates the fall work.

Stubble may be handled in somewhat similar manner. As soon as the harvest is over, the land should be ploughed to a depth of three to four inches. If time does not permit of ploughing, thorough discing is essential and should be followed by repeated surface cultivation. The good work of previous autumn should be continued in the spring as soon as the land is fit for implements. A couple of harrowings and discings at intervals before the time of seeding will destroy other generations of weeds. Use broad cutting implements running horizontally in the ground, at the time the weeds are small. This is the cheapest and most effective method at all times. Tenacity, perseverance and patience are the main forces in the conquest of weeds, and if we fight them with the same bulldog spirit which "the boys" displayed in France, success and a tolerable peace will be our reward.

ALL THE EVIDENCE AVAILABLE DESIRED

Ruling by Magistrate at Trial of Strike Leaders in in Winnipeg

Winnipeg, Aug. 8.—At the preliminary trial of the eight strike leaders here on a charge of seditious conspiracy, Magistrate R. M. Noble ruled yesterday that the evidence of anyone having done anything in furtherance of the common design, whether known to the eight strike leaders or not, is admissible. "It might be one of the unfortunate incidents of a campaign of this kind that the accused would be held responsible for something for which they may not be responsible," he stated, in reply to objections by defense counsel to introduction of evidence as to actions of persons not identified or connected with the men on trial. The magistrate quoted authorities to show that in a conspiracy trial the scope of examination may be much wider than in ordinary cases.

Writings by Lenin.

The argument arose when B. Balford, a newspaperman, told of some one distributing copies of the Socialist Bulletin, with articles by Nikolai Lenin introduced in the paper as coming from the Russian Soviet Government. Explaining connection between this distribution and the accused, A. J. Andrews, K.C., crown prosecutor, said: "We have letters as exhibits showing that Russell and others were engaged in this propaganda and were raising money for it, and distributed the Socialist Bulletin at meetings."

A Bolshevik.

R. E. Bray, heading a delegation of returned men at the Parliament Buildings, had declared that he "was a Bolshevik and desired the soviet system of government," Mr. Andrews said.

Mr. Balford's evidence dealt with a meeting at the Majestic Theatre on January 19, at which was proposed a memorial service in honor of Rosa Luxemburg and Karl Liebknecht. George Armstrong and R. E. Russell were the speakers, the latter, said the witness, stating that the truth with regard to the Russian Soviet Government was being kept back from the rest of the world. The witness thought he laid responsibility at the door of the Allies. R. J. Johns had declared that a bloodless revolution was coming, he said, but S. Blumenburg, who followed, felt sure there would be a fight with bloodshed.

A Hoax.

How her striking neighbors had made a manikin, covered its face with a bloody handkerchief and led Mrs. R. F. Ross, McAdam Avenue, Kildonan, to believe it was her husband, who had returned to work at the postoffice, was told by Mrs. Ross.

A feud still exists between the Ross family and their neighbors over the occurrence, and a neighbor whose wife refused to send away the nephews of Mr. Ross, who were living at their house, has left his wife in consequence, witnesses declared.

Statements.

Winnipeg, Aug. 8.—At the preliminary trial of alleged leaders and organizers of the "Silent Parade"—John Farnell, James Grant and Joseph A. Martin—which on June 21 terminated in rioting and bloodshed here, witnesses yesterday testified that the accused had stated that the time for law and order had passed, and that constituted authority had failed and should

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitter-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and chest, and reducing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitter-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by Cyrus H. Bowes in Victoria and most all druggists under a guarantee of perfect health. Miss Georgie Hamilton, who was once thin and frail, reporting her own experience, writes: "Bitter-Phosphate has brought about a marked transformation with me. I gained 16 pounds and never before felt so well."

CAUTION—Although bitter-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its tendency to increase weight, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

WOMAN SAVED MUCH SUFFERING

By taking Friend's Advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

West Plains, Mo.—"I was all run down in health, had indigestion and terrible cramps every month so I was unable to do anything. I had tried every doctor in West Plains, also every remedy I could think of, without relief. One day when I was suffering greatly a friend told me at my house and said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?'"

So I did, and through it I found relief from my suffering and I really believe it saved my life. It does not seem as though I can say enough in praise of this wonderful medicine for the health it has brought me."

MISS CORA LEE HALL, West Plains, Mo.

Perhaps it may seem an extravagant statement to say that this great remedy saved a life; but women like Mrs. Hall, to whom it has brought health, appreciate the danger and suffering they have escaped too well to doubt it. All who suffer should try it. Why risk life and health without it?

For special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

A Bolshevik.

therefore be done away with; "that people are talking of us as a soviet, and if they care to inquire might find we are soviet," and that the Citizens' Committee should be kicked out of the Industrial Building and their offices occupied by the strikers. The defendants are returned soldiers.

Meetings.

R. McLaughlin, a detective of the R. N. W. M. P., told of attending a meeting in Market Square the night before the riots, of hearing Farnell and Martin speaking. "The time has come," said Farnell, "to show the Federal Government that the returned men are through. We'll show how the country should be run." He went on to say that a parade would be held the next day, witnesses testified.

Martin had followed, said McLaughlin, and described how the parade should be carried out, without speaking or paying attention to any one or any obstacle in their way. He said that they should eject the Citizens' Committee.

In Victoria Park the next morning, said witness, Grant had said that the parade would be held and that "all hell would not stop us"; that "they are talking of sovietism and revolution, and if they do not watch out it will be a Soviet Government we'll establish."

Cross-examined, McLaughlin maintained his stand as to the statements, but admitted he had made no notes until an hour after the meetings. He said Martin had declared that the "time for law and order had passed; that constituted authority had failed to produce results."

WISE MEN SAY—

That fondness for any pursuit does not imply aptitude.

That opportunity knocks at the door—trouble breaks it open.

That you should forgive many things in others but nothing in yourself.

That to appreciate real love it isn't necessary to sample too many imitations.

That self-control and faith are not only strength to their possessor; they also enable him to impart strength to others.

That you never realize how small this world really is until you try to dodge someone you do not want to meet.

That the fool with a good memory is full of ideas and facts; but he can't draw conclusions from them; everything turns upon that.

That carefulness is generated by interest in one's job, by determination to make good, by ambition to master the work in hand and to earn promotion.

That youth is not always an asset. Neither is age always a liability. It all depends on the kind of person you are. If you are young, there is no reason why you should be careless; if you are old, there is no reason why you should be unteachable. The older the wise man grows, the more he realizes how little he knows.

OF COURSE.

"Do you know why all dogs are so fond of you?" asked Harry of Edith. "No," answered Edith. "Why?" "Because," replied Harry, "dogs are the most intelligent of all animals." "Of course they were married."

PLAN OF MUNICIPAL GOLF LINKS PROPOSED AT UPLANDS

—By Courtesy of the B. C. Electric Railway Co.

MUNICIPAL LINKS

PLAN IS ATTRACTIVE

Location at Cadboro Bay Road
Would Be Within Easy Access

Since the scheme for municipal links in the Uplands district, west of Cadboro Bay Road, was launched by the Rotary Club, the plan has been modified to change the proposed location from the land abutting on that road and Lansdowne Road, and in its place the area at the corner of Bay Road and Cadboro Bay Road has been selected.

The site has long been known as a richly fertile grain acreage, with sufficiently undulating country, and an edging of bush which is among the best scenery on Vancouver Island. Both properties belong to the Hudson's Bay Company, so that the change did not involve difficulty in this respect.

The land, which is about 150 acres in extent, readily lends itself to conversion into an eighteen hole course, and is commended by experts. It is available on a twenty year lease at attractive rental.

The area was visited by members of the Club this week, and they were able to bring back a favorable report on the suitability of the land for the proposed purpose.

OAK BAY TAKES LEAD

WITH HOUSE BUILDING

Effort, Though Limited at Present, Gives Promise of Development

Residential building has been so long checked in Victoria and district, owing to the high price of lumber and materials, and the shortage of labor that any sign of development is to be heartily welcomed. Of course the lack of houses has had a stimulating effect, but until the city and district municipalities have made up their minds on the subject, the improvement in the building trade expected to flow from the Dominion Housing scheme has not yet materialized.

Meanwhile the building of houses in the district in the southern portion of Oak Bay is a hopeful sign of the times. In the bush at the southern end of St. Patrick Street homes are building at the present time, and this fact should be an inducement to the improvement of a fine location. The demand for small residential property, between $2,000 and $5,000 is such as to call for more construction of this nature, and the initiative in this matter, the opportunity is there, and should be encouraged.

TEACHES LIFE SAVING TO ITS CLUB MEMBERS

Victoria Amateur Swimming Club Again Takes Up Study

Instruction in life-saving methods is again being featured by the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, classes being held Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Last season life-saving was featured at the club, and spectators were greatly impressed with the way some of the members demonstrated various ways of rescuing a drowning person from the water and the ways for a rescuer of releasing himself or herself from the clutches of a frantic swimmer. The method of restoring an apparently drowned person is also taught.

The handicap this week was swum off in two heats, the final taking place some time during the week-end. J. Clyde, I. F. Gates, 2, and K. Wellburn, 3, were placed in one heat. Tom Wellburn, I. P. Johnson, 2, and Gracie Wellburn, 3, were placed in the other heat.

tenor Swimming Club's gala at English Bay to-morrow, where the main events on the programme are the 220 yards and the 50 yards provincial championships. The Victoria Amateur Club and the V. I. A. A. are sending swimmers for several events in addition to the races for the B. C. titles, and are also sending polo teams to play for the B. C. title, the first named club combining with the V. I. A. A. for this event. The Foundation Club will also be represented at the gala. A large party of club supporters will accompany the swimmers, 34 with the Victoria Club's swimmers alone.

The death has occurred of David Gregory, who captained the first Australian cricket eleven which visited England.

Shawnigan Lake Regatta to Be Notable Engagement

James Bay and Shawnigan Will Compete for Walbank Cup for First Time Since 1914—The Events

What promises to be the largest and most successful regatta in years will be held at Shawnigan Lake to-morrow, beginning at two o'clock sharp. This regatta can really only be called the first held at Shawnigan since 1914, although the progressive Shawnigan Lake Athletic Association have staged minor events each year.

The Main Event.

The inter-club race, between the S. L. A. A. and the J. B. A. A., is predicted as the main attraction of the day. This race is for the Walbank Cup, and is for oarsmen who have never won a race in previous years. Coach O'Sullivan, of the J. B. A. A., and Coach Geo. Kingsley both report their respective crews as being in first class condition for the contest, and a most spectacular race is assured.

The S. L. A. A. crew will be represented as follows: J. Peterson (stroke), L. A. Chapelle (3), E. Clark (2), Fred Yates (bow). It might be interesting to note that this crew is practically a veteran one as Peterson, Clark and Yates have all served with the C. E. F. Dan O'Sullivan's "hopes" will be Cribb (stroke), Decarteret (2), Ablett (3), Hunter (bow).

Mile Dinghy Race.
Another event which a keen interest is being taken in is the one mile dinghy race for the Peden cup. The championship is at present held by G. Margot-jach, who won from a large field of entries in 1914. "Gus," as he is popularly known, only recently returned from overseas, and it is doubtful if he will make an effort to defend his laurels, as he was wounded on several occasions.

A Race For Youngsters.
Two added features to this year's programme is the single dinghy race for returned soldiers, and the free-for-all girls' and boys' mixed swimming race for children up to twelve years of age.

The canoe races should also have a large entry list as the sport is proving to be more popular each year.

A Star in Action.
It is expected that Billie Kennedy, who won five firsts at the recent citizen regatta, will be seen in action in the canoe events.

The Flannel Dance.
As a windup to the day's sport a big flannel dance will be held in the spacious Shawnigan Lake Athletic Hall,

The Officials.

The following capable committee have been chosen to handle the different events and no delay whatever will be allowed in carrying out the large programme of events:
Judges, Col. Eardley Wilmut, S. J. Heald, G. F. Kingsley, P. T. Elford; starters, W. R. Elford, H. Kingsley, Dan O'Sullivan; general committee, C. W. Lonsdale, E. Clark, Phil Austin; master of ceremonies, Billie Kennedy, P. G. Twist; entry clerk.

SOME HAVE DOUBTS FOUNDATION CAN WIN

Point to Strengthen Side of Salmonbellies For Tomorrow's Game

Will the town on the banks of the mighty Fraser send over a lacrosse team strong enough to put a crimp in the victorious progress of the Foundation stickhandlers at Royal Athletic Park to-morrow afternoon? A great many fans are asking that very question as the crucial contest draws near. There are a few skeptics, too, who can see nothing but a win for the visitors to-morrow, pointing to the greatly strengthened lineup and the score made in the New Westminster-Vancouver game of last week-end. There is one man, however, who understands the game thoroughly, and that is Ed Brynjolfsson, manager of the nearly-arrived world's champions. While he

FRED KROEGER
Star Foundation Lacrosse Club

appreciates and does not underestimate the strength of the Salmonbellies, he is highly pleased that his boys will have an aggregation battling against them tomorrow that will be worthy of their skill and endurance. That the game will be the fastest and hardest of the league fixtures is almost certain, as New Westminster has a chance, although a slim one, to yet win enough games to represent the West in the big Winnipeg lacrosse tournament for Canadian championships, and they are going to play their utmost in order to achieve the honor.
It was announced in yesterday's Times that the Green Street gate would be open for to-morrow's game, but it was found that a box office couldn't be finished in time, and the usual entrance must serve on this occasion.

Seattle, Aug. 7.—W. J. (Bill) Clymer, recent manager of the Seattle club, will be Seattle candidate for the presidency of the Pacific Coast Baseball League, it was announced to-night. Walter McCredie, manager of the Portland team, now here, joined with President Brewster, of the Seattle club, to-night in telegraphing directors of all the other clubs asking endorsement of Clymer to succeed Allen T. Baum, who desires to retire president of the League as soon as possible.

PEACE BOWL TROPHY CREATES ENTHUSIASM

Bowlers Will Play Semi-Finals and Possibly Finals
To-morrow

No competition among the local lawn bowlers has been productive of more enthusiasm this year than that for the Civil Service Peace Bowl. This is a singles contest and in all thirty-two entries were received. Already most of the games in the first round have been played off; this evening will see the remaining two matches in this round decided, after which the Games Committee will make arrangements for the second and subsequent rounds which take place to-morrow afternoon at 2.15 o'clock. It is hoped to get all the matches in the competition played off to-morrow, but it is doubtful if time will permit this. It is almost certain, however, that the semi-finals will be decided, and spectators are assured the pleasure of witnessing some keen and interesting contests.

The following competitors, having been successful in their first round encounters, are scheduled to appear tomorrow afternoon: Bramley, Munro, Vallance, Lothian, Cashmore, Bryce or Markham, Wood, Chambers, Stevenson, Greenhill, Webster, McCosh, Mc-Neill, Downwell, Hayes or Boyd and McKeachie.

thoroughly with the most intense interest by a large following who attended every drive and putt with bated breath.
Out of the four who contested for the semi-finals three are Scotsmen and one is a Canadian. Cuthbert is from Goosie, and Weir and Anderson represent the southern portion of the Old Country.

A GIVE-AWAY.

A stylish dressed woman entered the restaurant. The waiter handed her a bill-of-fare written in French and said: "Please mark off the dishes you wish to order." Could a woman, dressed in the height of fashion, confess that she was unable to read French? Taking the pencil, she made a few dashes, and the order read: "Dinner, 2s." "March 20." "Vegetables." "Please pay at the desk." "No Tip." The waiter brought her a beefsteak and chip potatoes, but she did not dare to raise a word in protest.

SPECIAL for SATURDAY

BROILERS and FRYERS

The following received by this morning's mail from a visitor to Victoria:

ROCKSIDE POULTRY FARM.

A truck-load of two thousand chicks, and just five hundred more. Made quite a show the other day, outside J. RYLAND'S STORE. All pure-bred birds every one, with feathers white as snow. It raised my curiosity to see where they would go.

Away they went, up Quadra Hill—the speed caused much alarm. And then they entered what is known as "RYLAND'S ROCKSIDE FARM." A place I've heard a lot about, and often wished to view. For years I've heard of ROCKSIDE FARM, I thought could not be true.

The way things are conducted there, and money Jos. has spent, is proof few people really know what a poultry business meant. No Municipal Housing Scheme will ever be required. As the tenements for pigs and chickens are all can be desired.

A portion known as "Holstein Park" is where the cows reside. "Ham Commons" is quite a colony, where Rylands' pigs abide. And villas built for chickens, why, the architecture's great. 'Tis there Jos. Rylands ought to hold a Summer Garden Fete.

A deputation from Vancouver, also from Seattle, will view Jos. Rylands' poultry farm, and have a little prattle, and maybe get a tip or two—but Jos. his eye was on the prize. Then give a most sardonic grin, and say, "Well, I don't think."

PARTY OF EDITORS GOES TO PORTLAND

Seattle, Aug. 7.—With only an hour and fifteen minutes to spare for breakfast and have their baggage packed through the customs and transferred from the U. S. R. R. to the Northern Pacific depot, 230 delegates to the convention of the National Editorial Association of the United States paid a flying visit to Seattle this morning en route to Portland, where the first business session will be held tomorrow.

The party, which included 170 men, 100 women and 10 children, arrived at the Canadian Pacific dock at 7.45 this morning from Vancouver, B. C., after having come overland from Winnipeg. It was headed by Congressman Guy U. Hardy, of Colorado, president of the association.

The delegates will return to Seattle next Thursday.

BEYOND ENDURANCE.

A newly-married couple hit upon the idea of pretending to be deaf and dumb whilst on their honeymoon.

At the station they started talking on their fingers and overheard the following remarks: "It's a newly-married couple," said a lady. "The poor things are deaf and dumb. Isn't it awful?"

"What do you suppose he saw in her?" asked the other. "She is positively ugly."

"And I believe her hair is dyed," said the first woman.

"And her hat is out of date," was the next starter.

"Look like an old one," was the reply. "Her dress wrinkles in the back," said the first.

"She is thirty-five if she's a day, and she looks as if she had a frightful temper."

At this point the bride found her tongue, and she remarks to those women left no doubt about her having that important article that women are supposed to exercise so freely.

TRUE HAPPINESS.

(From the Omaha News.)

Did you ever read the Book of Kings—Ecclesiastes—written by Solomon, the richest, wisest and most powerful man of Biblical times, keeping in mind that it is the story of a man searching for happiness?

Try it, if you haven't.

There was a man who had but to raise his hand in token of a wish and that wish would be fulfilled if it were physically possible.

And he was the unhappiest of men. He tried pleasure, labor, the attainment of knowledge, etc., only to find them of no avail in bringing happiness to his heart.

Then he turned to the helping of others, and found therein the true happiness which had eluded him in all other trials.

It is true to-day as it was in Solomon's time—the only real happiness is in service to your fellow men.

WHY.

Little Richard was entertaining his sister's hesitating admirer and, after making the usual juvenile remarks on marbles and tops, he suddenly announced:

"Ethel told me yesterday you was a born politician."

The young man was delighted and wishing to know more, asked:

"That's so? Why does she think that?"

"That's just what she wanted to know, and Ethel said it because you can call so often and do so much talking without committing yourself."

THRACIAN APPEAL.

Salonica, July 31.—Via London, Aug. 1.—A League comprising 250,000 refugees of Thrace has addressed to the Peace Conference and to several European officials an appeal asking support for union of Thrace as a whole with Greece.

EASILY CURED.

"I'm worried about Willie Skiffens." "He's so studious that he ought to get along."

"Yes, but he is trying to learn aviation from a correspondence school."—Washington Star.

TWO MEN PERISH BY DUEL IN WILDERNESS OF NORTH

ed two empty shells, one unused shell in the barrel and four unused shells in the magazine. Besides Regalado's body which had been wounded by bullets in the left breast and right shoulder lay a 32 calibre Colt revolver, with four discharged cartridges, and two unused shells in the magazine.

These circumstances seemed to indicate a terrible duel, fought out with only two horses as living witnesses. Apparently, Sharpe had fired two shots, the bullets entering the body of his partner who, in the meantime, had fired three cartridges without effect. Before Sharpe could complete the deadly work wrought by his two first shots, Regalado's fourth bullet had crashed into his brain, killing him instantly. Regalado, it would seem, had died, probably in a few seconds from the two bullets which had entered his body.

The Camp.

The camp which the two doomed prospectors had made was not many feet from their dead bodies. A quantity of food, including two cans of lard, wheat cakes, about three pounds of bacon, about seventy-five pounds of flour, and a quantity of documents and miners' licenses were found. Two rifles, a 22 and a 32 Winchester special, also lay with special pans, an axe and other camp implements. Papers discovered on the dead men indicated that Regalado had come from Acme, Wyoming, where he had been a member of Local Union No. 2025, U.M.W. of A., and that Sharpe had lived in Kildare County, North Dakota.

Sharpe's watch had stopped at forty-seven minutes past three, but this, of course, did not indicate at what date the tragedy took place. Halters lying beside the bodies showed that the horses, which had disappeared, had been turned out to graze.

The prospectors' party concluded therefore that the fatal duel had taken place either after camp had been made in the evening or before the travellers started their day's march in the morning.

Buried Bodies.

From the information received by the Provincial Police, the party which had come upon the scene of the shooting, left the bodies covered with blankets, canvas and brush and went to collect other travellers. A jury, consisting of R. Frey, foreman, C. Cowdrey, N. Grethous, William J. Hinchcliffe, Joe Gray, James H. Johnson and Fred Mattan, was formed within a few days.

This self-constituted and hurriedly collected body considered the case and pronounced that "One Sharpe met his death from a gun in the hands of one Regalado, and one Regalado met his death from a gun in the hands of Sharpe." The jury also ordered the bodies buried, and its members set to work to dig graves.

The goods discovered were deposited in a cache some two hundred yards distant. A piece of paper was fastened to a piece of hewed timber by the grave sides, stating what the jury had done. This paper was not signed.

Police on Trail.

Rumors that the bodies of two prospectors had been found far in the wilds of the northlands soon began to circulate in the settlements further south. Hearing reports of this kind Chief Constable Taylor, at St. John, set out from Hudson's Hope on June 12 for the scene of the reported tragedy.

The trip to the site of the discovery was one of utmost difficulty, for the water in the rivers was high and more than once threatened to drown the posse. The baggage and the men several times were precipitated from hastily constructed rafts into the boiling waters of some of the swollen streams, but finally, on June 27, after much labor they reached the little lake beside which Sharpe and Regalado had died. Here they found the graves and the cache, but of the horses and men there was no sign.

Chief Taylor determined to find out more about the case, and he travelled many miles in search of the prospectors who had formed the extraordinary jury. Several members of the jury were interviewed, and each described the circumstances recorded in the foregoing.

Found the Horses.

During the return trip the police party came across the two horses, which Chief Taylor knew had belonged to Regalado and Sharpe. The animals were traveling south on a trail at a fast pace, apparently terrified by wolves, encountered farther north. The party arrived in Hudson's Hope on July 6, after having covered about 460 miles.

On the following day Horace Sharpe, of Butte, Montana, a brother of the dead prospector, arrived in the town. He had intended to remove the body, but decided on finding the distance into the Nelson River country to abandon his plan. Chief Constable Taylor gave to Mr. Sharpe his brother's personal effects and all letters from his wife.

The very thing that saved them was the habit of saving money. With the money saved they were able to take advantage of opportunities as they arose.

LIBERALS CALL FOR RAILWAY INQUIRY

loans of the public moneys and thus involved the Dominion of Canada in financial obligations which resulted in the Government assuming the ownership of the said system, and Inquiry Demanded.

"Whereas in addition to assuming the enormous liabilities incurred by the purchase of the Canadian Northern Railway system the Dominion Government forced through Parliament in contravention of legislation already on the books, an act under which $10,000,000 was paid to C. N. R. interests, the identity of whom has never been disclosed, this Convention condemns with all possible vigor this entire unbusinesslike transaction and demands a full investigation into the conditions surrounding the purchase of the C. N. R. and the destination of the moneys paid.

"The Government now owns and operates 16,000 miles of railway. We believe that the present system of management by a board, the majority of the members of which devote but a small portion of their time to this work, is unwieldy, inefficient and extravagant, and that under the present administration public ownership and operation will not receive a fair trial.

"Adequate facilities and tonnage for ocean traffic are a vital concern to the commerce of Canada, and the utter lack of foresight on the part of the Government in neglecting to see that such facilities and tonnage were provided for the immediate after-the-war period is not only humiliating to the Canadian people but is materially impairing our export trade.

"At this time, when the country should be in a position to take full advantage of the opportunities to secure its proper share of the export business on which the financial, industrial and agricultural future of Canada depends, we are confronted with the lamentable situation that no adequate provision has been made for the transportation of the products of the farm, the factory and the forest to the markets of the world. With the knowledge of enormous destruction of tonnage by the havoc of war in its possession, the failure of the Government to protect the trade of Canada against the condition that now confronts it shows an absence of business ability which merits the severest condemnation of the people of Canada.

Confidence in Future

"This Convention declares its fullest confidence in the future of Canada, believing that a wise and economical development of our natural resources and a judicious and vigorous immigration and colonization policy, coupled with strict economy and efficient management in every department of the Government, will solve the transportation and other difficult problems now confronting the country."

Prairie Resources

Premier Stewart of Alberta, seconded by Premier Martin of Saskatchewan, moved, and the resolution was adopted, that the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta should be granted the ownership and control of the natural resources within their respective boundaries on terms that are fair and equitable with reference to all other provinces of the Dominion.

Resolution of thanks to Hon. Charles Murphy, the general secretary, and all those who had worked in connection with the Convention also were adopted.

THE PRICE OF DREAMS.

We dream; and the mounting vision, Freed from the reek and stain Of sin-bound cities, is lifted To skies that are clear again— Homes redeemed from the spoiler, The child at his happy play; But for every dream we win to fact, With blood and with tears we pay.

There kindled a dream of freedom, It burned with a holy flame; When, slowly, with lips that trembled, We spelled out that awful name, Down in the dust of the battle, Our heart—our dearest, lay.

We dream, and the dreams come true at last, But we pay, we pay, we pay, Alice Rollit Coe, in Scribner's Magazine.

FINANCIAL NEWS

NEW YORK STOCKS RALLIED TO-DAY

Selling by Short Interest Was Overdone in Early Stages of the Session

(By Burdick Bros. & Brett, Ltd.)

New York, Aug. 8.—After a slight rally shortly after the opening of the Stock Exchange here to-day a fresh selling wave was encountered, stocks were carried below the low point of yesterday, the railroad stocks being the worst sufferers. The liquidation of yesterday was pretty thorough and the selling this morning was to a large extent for short account and for liquid holders. Support was given to the market and a rally followed, with the stock and equipment shares the best gainers. A great deal of uncertainty still overhangs the market and caution is still urged by the best interests. Stability is still wanting.

Delegation Asks Cabinet to Alter Game Regulations

Formal Discussion and Explanations Clear the Atmosphere

PROTEST MADE AGAINST OPEN WAPITI SEASON

No Alteration Will Be Made to the Existing Schedules

Expressing its views in a memorandum, and supplementing the expression of opinion contained therein by verbal illustration, more than a dozen local sportsmen met the Hon. J. D. Maclean, Acting Premier, and the Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, in the Executive Chamber at the Parliament Buildings this morning to offer specific suggestions for amending the game regulations for the forthcoming season.

The Subjects Dealt With.

The delegation expressed its interest through its several spokesmen in the seasons set for the Hungarian partridges, blue grouse, Willow grouse and ducks, while the opinion was held that there should be no open season for wapiti in the Kootenay districts. The members of the Cabinet were attended by an official of the British Columbia Game Conservation Board, and although the delegation was not successful in getting any promise of alterations to the regulations as already published, the interchange of view, coupled with a complete explanation of the factors which governed the Board at its meeting last month, the delegation went away in good humor.

DELEGATION ASKS CABINET TO ALTER GAME REGULATIONS

Formal Discussion and Explanations Clear the Atmosphere

PROTEST MADE AGAINST OPEN WAPITI SEASON

No Alteration Will Be Made to the Existing Schedules

Expressing its views in a memorandum, and supplementing the expression of opinion contained therein by verbal illustration, more than a dozen local sportsmen met the Hon. J. D. Maclean, Acting Premier, and the Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, in the Executive Chamber at the Parliament Buildings this morning to offer specific suggestions for amending the game regulations for the forthcoming season.

The Subjects Dealt With.

The delegation expressed its interest through its several spokesmen in the seasons set for the Hungarian partridges, blue grouse, Willow grouse and ducks, while the opinion was held that there should be no open season for wapiti in the Kootenay districts. The members of the Cabinet were attended by an official of the British Columbia Game Conservation Board, and although the delegation was not successful in getting any promise of alterations to the regulations as already published, the interchange of view, coupled with a complete explanation of the factors which governed the Board at its meeting last month, the delegation went away in good humor.

Game an Asset.

It was pointed out to the members of the Cabinet that the delegation was not only deeply interested in the question of game as to the present, but more particularly as to the future, expressing the belief that it was one of the greatest attractions on the island and in the Province as a whole, therefore demanding the most careful attention at the hands of the authorities concerned. These sentiments were concurred in by the members of the Government, who replied that the Game Conservation Board had been actuated by the same desire, their deliberations having been tempered by representative advice from Game Associations and sportsmen from every section of the Province.

Hungarian Partridges.

Regulations decided upon by the Game Conservation Board set the open season for Hungarian Partridges from November 21 to November 23 inclusive. This morning's delegation pointed out that these birds were brought here at very great expense, and it considered that there should be a close season this year, and that as many as possible should be trapped in Saanich and distributed over the island.

This particular variety came in for a good deal of discussion on the occasion of the Game Conservation Board's meeting, despite the fact that it had before it throughout its deliberations a recommendation from the Victoria Gun Club which pleaded for an open season extending from October 15 to December 1. Fully realizing the situation and its interest in general conservation, however, the Board confined the season to three days. That regulation will remain in effect.

Blue Grouse.

Blue grouse according to regulation, are to be at the mercy of the sportsmen from September 13 to September 23. This morning's delegation suggested that the season be extended to November 23—an increase of practically two months over the period decided upon by the Board. It was explained to the delegation by the Board's representative this morning that if the open season for Blue Grouse were to be extended after the identical period set for Willow Grouse had expired there would be a tendency on the part of some ill-fortuned sportsmen to pot the protected member of the Willow family if a Blue failed to "rise" to the occasion.

It was fairly generally conceded, moreover, that there are very few Blue Grouse about after the end of September. Apart from this factor, however, the difficulty of enforcing the law with the grouse family treated on a separate basis was held by the Government to be a definite reason for allowing the regulation to remain as it is.

Ducks.

Open season for ducks is set from October 18 to January 31 inclusive. The delegation desired an extension of the period into February and to be made applicable for the south end of Vancouver Island only. It was not considered advisable to create a special division for any special section and the Board, in deciding the duck season, had always in mind the intentions of the Migratory Bird Convention Act and its relation to limiting spring shooting.

Wapiti.

Then the delegation reminded the Cabinet of the open season set for Wapiti in the East Kootenay district, where the bag is limited to one bull this year. Views were expressed protesting against this provision on the ground that the delegation considered the few animals that had been seen did not warrant the open season at all.

There are apparently domestic difficulties among the Wapiti, however, and a psychological factor entered very largely into the decision of the Board to open the season in this locality. Furthermore, representations were made to the Board by prominent associations in the Columbia, Cranbrook and Fern sections, apart from coincidental views submitted by well known sportsmen of the district, who have the interest of big game at heart and realize it as a valuable asset.

It was pointed out to the delegation also that the Board has made arrangements for extra patrolling in the district so that abuses may be detected and the necessary safeguards employed. This is the first open season for fourteen years and official reports of a great deal of inbreeding assisted the Board in its decision to limit the season to bulls, the older ones possessing the attraction for the experienced hunter.

GOOD MIXER.

"A good mixer, isn't he?" "You betcha," replied a citizen of Grudge, quoted in Judge. "He can tell more funny stories, borrow more money, pay less of it back, get more signers to petitions, be elected to more lodge offices and do less honest work than any other three men in town."

WILSON SPEAKS ON COST OF LIVING

Asks Congress of United States to Take Certain Steps

Washington, Aug. 8.—Addressing Congress to-day and proposing remedies to check the high cost of living, President Wilson declared that the existing laws were inadequate, and that high prices were not justified by shortage of supplies present or prospective, but were created in many cases "artificially and deliberately" by "vicious practices."

The President recommended that the Food Control Act be extended to peace time operation, and that Congress exclude from interstate as well as intra state shipment goods which do not comply with its provisions.

The President also recommended that the food law be provided with a substantial penalty for profiteering, and that a cold storage law be enacted modeled after the law in New Jersey, by which a time limit is placed on cold storage. He also recommended that all goods released from cold storage be marked with the price prevailing when they went into storage. He further recommended that goods in interstate commerce be marked with the prices at which they left the producer.

It would serve as a useful example, the President suggested, if Congress would enact legislation to control the situation in the District of Columbia, where it has unlimited authority.

Licensing System.

Further, the President recommended a federal licensing system for corporations engaged in interstate commerce which would embody regulations to insure competitive selling and prevent unconscionable profits in the method of marketing. He also urged prompt passage of the law pending to control security issues.

Making an appeal for the ratification of the peace treaty to turn the country from a war basis, the President said: "There can be no peace prices so long as our whole financial and economic system is on a war basis."

"A process has set in," the President told Congress, "which is likely, unless something is done, to push prices and rents and the whole cost of living higher and yet higher in a vicious circle to which there is no logical or natural end."

"Some of the methods by which these prices are produced are already illegal, some of them criminal, and those who employ them will be energetically proceeded against, but others have not yet been brought under the law and should be dealt with at once by legislation."

Higher Wages.

Demands for increases of wages, accompanying the rising cost of living, the President said, "were justified if there be no other means of enabling men to live."

"While there is any possibility that the peace terms may be changed," said the President, referring to his plea for early ratification of the treaty so that the country may be turned back from a war basis, "or may be enforced in abeyance, or may not be held long because of divisions of opinion among the powers associated against Germany, it is idle to look for permanent relief."

Surplus stocks of food and clothing in the hands of the Government, the President said, would be sold and hoards of food in private hands would be forced out under the existing provisions of the food control law.

OBITUARY RECORD

The death occurred at Kamloops on Wednesday of William Keady, aged seventy-five years. He was born in Exeter, Ont., and had been a resident of Victoria for the past ten years. He leaves to mourn his loss one son and six daughters. The remains have been brought to Victoria for interment, and the funeral will be held from the Sands Funeral Chapel to-morrow morning at 10.35. Rev. Rupert Stewart will officiate. Interment will be made at Ross Bay Cemetery.

GOOD MIXER.

"A good mixer, isn't he?" "You betcha," replied a citizen of Grudge, quoted in Judge. "He can tell more funny stories, borrow more money, pay less of it back, get more signers to petitions, be elected to more lodge offices and do less honest work than any other three men in town."

Asks Congress of United States to Take Certain Steps

Washington, Aug. 8.—Addressing Congress to-day and proposing remedies to check the high cost of living, President Wilson declared that the existing laws were inadequate, and that high prices were not justified by shortage of supplies present or prospective, but were created in many cases "artificially and deliberately" by "vicious practices."

The President recommended that the Food Control Act be extended to peace time operation, and that Congress exclude from interstate as well as intra state shipment goods which do not comply with its provisions.

The President also recommended that the food law be provided with a substantial penalty for profiteering, and that a cold storage law be enacted modeled after the law in New Jersey, by which a time limit is placed on cold storage. He also recommended that all goods released from cold storage be marked with the price prevailing when they went into storage. He further recommended that goods in interstate commerce be marked with the prices at which they left the producer.

It would serve as a useful example, the President suggested, if Congress would enact legislation to control the situation in the District of Columbia, where it has unlimited authority.

Licensing System.

Further, the President recommended a federal licensing system for corporations engaged in interstate commerce which would embody regulations to insure competitive selling and prevent unconscionable profits in the method of marketing. He also urged prompt passage of the law pending to control security issues.

Making an appeal for the ratification of the peace treaty to turn the country from a war basis, the President said: "There can be no peace prices so long as our whole financial and economic system is on a war basis."

"A process has set in," the President told Congress, "which is likely, unless something is done, to push prices and rents and the whole cost of living higher and yet higher in a vicious circle to which there is no logical or natural end."

FUSHIMI MARU, DISABLED, LIMPING BACK TO PORT

Crack Japanese Liner Cracked Cylinder Head and Steam Steering Gear Went Out of Commission—Returning to Seattle to Make Repairs

With a cylinder head cracked and her steam steering gear out of commission the Crack Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Fushimi Maru is limping back to port for repairs. Just how the accident to the Fushimi Maru happened is a mystery, as only the most meagre information has been received by the radio route. When his ship became disabled, Capt. T. Irisawa, commander of the Fushimi Maru, put his command about and flashed a message ashore to the effect that he was proceeding to Seattle. Carrying over three hundred passengers and laden with a capacity cargo of freight the Fushimi Maru sailed from Victoria at 6.30 o'clock on Tuesday last and was about five hundred miles out when trouble cut loose in the engine room.

Peace Envoys Aboard.

Among the saloon passengers were a party of Japanese peace envoys who were taking to Tokyo the first copy of the Peace Treaty to be forwarded to Japan.

As she was heading back to the coast the Fushimi Maru got into communication with the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services liner Empress of Russia, which steamed from this port last midnight, bound for the Far East. Efforts were made to secure the transfer of the Japanese peace envoys to the Empress of Russia at sea, but as the Russia's accommodation was fully taxed, it is understood that the entire complement is returning to Seattle on the disabled Japanese liner.

After learning that the Fushimi Maru

did not require assistance, Commander S. Robinson, R.N.R., of the Empress of Russia, kept his ship on course.

Was Driving Hard.

Owing to the desire of the Imperial Japanese Government to have the copy of the Peace Treaty delivered at Tokyo with every dispatch, the liner Fushimi Maru, despite the fact that she was a day late in completing her inward voyage, put to sea from Seattle and Victoria right on schedule.

Because of this it is likely that the Japanese liner was driving at her best clip in order to make Yokohama with the least possible delay.

The agents of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha at Seattle have been notified that the Fushimi Maru will arrive there to-day and plans have accordingly been made to have the repair job undertaken immediately the ship docks.

DISABLED AT SEA; CRACK N.Y. K. LINER FUSHIMI MARU

Finest of Fleet.
The Fushimi Maru is the finest ship in the Nippon Yusen Kaisha service and has been operating on the trans-Pacific route of the company for the past two years.

Together with the Suwa Maru, Kashima Maru and Katori Maru, she was transferred from the European run at the height of the submarine menace. The original intention of the company to put the big ships back on the European run at the conclusion of the war failed to materialize, owing to the phenomenal development of both passenger and freight business on the North Pacific route between Hongkong, Yokohama, Victoria and Seattle. She is a vessel of 10,940 tons register, and displaces 21,000 tons.

FAKE WAR WORK.

Senator Sherman said at a dinner party:

"Now that the war is over, we can freely upbraid the fake war worker. The fake war worker was legion. You've heard, perhaps, the story about the grocer?"

"A grocer, back in 1915 or 1916, was sending his sugar with his errand boy's help."

"The errand boy, lifting a scoopful of sand, asked:

"The usual proportion, sir?"

"No, Joseph, of course not," the grocer replied sternly. "The usual proportion in days like these, Joseph?"

Joseph, where's your patriotism?"

"Then he sighed and added:

"Only half the usual proportion of sand, Joseph—only half the usual proportion as long as our gallant troops at the front have such need of sand-bags."

Launching May Be Followed By Additional Contracts

Capt. H. C. Hansen Predicts Further Orders to Keep Chulberg Plant Working at Full Capacity—Schooner Washington Took to Water Finely

With an aeroplane circling overhead and a fleet of small craft dotting the waters of the Inner Harbor the Norwegian schooner Washington was sent down the ways last night at the plant of the Chulberg Ship Company. The vessel was gracefully sponsored by Mrs. Chris. Chulberg, wife of the head of the Norse shipbuilding concern.

More Contracts Expected.

The disposal of the Washington leaves two ways vacant at the Chulberg yard, but from observations made last night by Capt. H. C. Hansen, to whose order the Washington has been built, there is every prospect of a further contract being secured from Norwegian interests which will keep the yard driving at its full capacity for some time to come. The Norwegian shipping companies have been hard hit by the war and there is every indication that the type of schooner being turned out in Victoria will be largely in demand for Norse registry.

Capt. Hansen spoke very highly of the Chulberg schooner design. These vessels are staunchly built and are well salted, he says, to give them a life of from thirty to forty years.

Workmen Honored.

A particularly interesting little ceremony took place prior to the launching of the Washington, when Capt. E. H. Martin, R.N., captain-superintendent of the Esquimalt Dockyard, presented Thomas White and Ronald Melville, employees of the Chulberg yard, with medals authorized by the Royal Canadian Humane Association for life-saving. In November last White and Melville rescued two little boys, Frank and Robert Dunn, who had been precipitated into the water while playing in the immediate vicinity of the plant. White, a returned soldier who was gassed at the front, contracted double pneumonia from such immersion in the cold water and had only recovered from the effects of the illness to be present at the ceremony.

In eulogistic phraseology, Capt. Martin praised the action of White and Melville and after presenting the medals called for three cheers and a tiger for the recipients, which were heartily given by the large crowd assembled in front of the launching platform.

Pretty Launching.

The medal presentation over, the signal was given by Chris Chulberg and the launching gang precipitated the schooner. The preliminary work included the tightening up of the poppet shores and as the skids rested on the greased ways the keel bloomed were cut away. At the first creak of the timber Mrs. Chulberg gave a preliminary tap on the forefoot and with accurate aim, shattered the bottle of champagne with such force that Capt. H. C. Hansen, who stood close by directing the sponsor, was liberally annoyed with the sparkling fluid.

The newly-christened Washington got away at 8 o'clock and swept down the ways to the acclaim of the crowd and mechanical music. The yard sirens shrieked and the blasts from the freight engine standing on the E. & N. rails blew by greatly magnified the chorus.

The stout Manila hawsers carried away as the trim hull sped out into the stream, but by the time she was half way across the harbor her progress was checked. The hull was secured by awaiting tugs and moored alongside the yard dolphins.

After the launching ceremony the guests adjourned to the office, where the sponsor was presented with a gold wrist watch, suitably inscribed, the gift of the builders.

The Guests.

The invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hammer, Mr. and Mrs. A. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sunde, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. d'Evers, Capt. and Mrs. A. Governor of Philippines

Another prominent passenger by the Empress of Russia was Francis Burton Harrison, Governor of the Philippine Islands, who is returning to Manila after conferring with cabinet officials at Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Osborn, of New York, also left. They have been waiting here for several days.

The Empress of Russia took out 300 passengers in the saloon, fifty second cabin and 400 Orientals in the steerage. She is laden with a capacity cargo, including a large shipment of automobiles for Japan.

The big liner reached here from Vancouver at 10 o'clock last night and put to sea two and a half hours later.

ENA COMING SOUTH TO EFFECT REPAIRS

Will Leave Menzies Bay Tonight; Plates Punctured Under Tunnel Well

The C.P.R. steamer Princess Ena, damaged on Wednesday by running foul of Ripple Rock, will leave Menzies Bay to-night and is expected to reach this port early to-morrow afternoon to effect permanent repairs. The following radio message was received this morning at the C.P.R. offices from Capt. Cliffe, master of the Princess Ena: "Divers making temporary repairs. Expect to proceed to Victoria to-night."

The steamer is damaged several feet along the keel aft, the plates being holed under the tunnel well. The Ena's pumps are easily able to take care of the water finding its way into the after hold, and when the damage has been patched up she will come here under her own steam. The Ena will be based out at the Victoria Machinery Depot for repairs.

WILL BE MASTER OF PRINCESS MAY

Capt. F. C. Stratford Appointed to Take Former C. P. R. Boat to Havana

Capt. F. C. Stratford, well-known local mariner and salvage expert, will go out in command of the steamer Princess May, it was learned to-day.

The Princess May, recently purchased by the Di Giorgio Company for the fruit-carrying trade between New York and the West Indies, is now being stripped at Yarrow's, Ltd., and will be remodeled at the Esquimalt plant before leaving for the Atlantic seaboard. W. R. Meyer, representative of the Di Giorgio Company, who put through the negotiations which resulted in the transfer of the Princess May, will remain in the city until the alterations have been completed.

It is expected that the vessel will be ready for sea in about a month. Capt. Stratford will take the Princess May to Havana, where she will load fruit for New York.

Capt. Stratford returned home from France in June after delivering the "Founders' built auxiliary schooner Georal Serret."

Organization is to be known as the Pacific Coast Shipbuilders' Traffic Association.

In a formal statement issued here to-night the Association declared: "Pacific Coast yards pay a freight rate of $1.25 to $1.50 per hundredweight for steel to build ships, while the shipyards of the Orient pay but $1.25 per hundredweight for the same quality of steel shipped from the Atlantic Coast mills to the Orient."

"The Japanese or Chinese shipbuilder can buy steel with less freight charges than the American yard pays. The situation is critical. We are entering on an era of competition and we want to compete on something like a fair basis."

L. R. Bishop, of the Southwestern Long Beach and Schaw-Batcher Shipyards, is president of the organization; H. C. Reed, of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, is secretary, and C. E. COUNCIL NOT ASKED TO PROVIDE MONEY SAY WAR VETERANS

Delegation of Returned Men Wait on City Council and Discuss Housing Scheme

Plainly stating the reasons why they considered it imperative that Victoria should adopt the Federal Housing Scheme, a number of forceful speakers, representative of a large delegation of war veterans, appeared before the City Council last evening. They pointed out that $180,000 had been allocated to the returned men of this city, and that the council refused to allow the men the use of it, which was not consistent with the showers of thanks which the men had been subjected to on arriving back from France. The scarcity of houses, the congestion in some parts of the city which were conducive to insanitary conditions, the necessity of giving the returned man, who had sacrificed everything, a chance to get started once more, and the fact that the city did not have to make the grant out of its own treasury were points which were driven home.

Some of the veterans were inclined to take issue with the aldermen at the close of the proceedings, but realized that they had simply gone there to place their case before the Council and refrained. If the governing body again refused to adopt the scheme it will likely be called upon to receive another delegation from the veterans who are prepared to fight the case, believing that they have the support of the general public.

Fullerton on His Feet.

After Mayor Porter had thanked the delegation for the able manner in which its arguments had been put forward and given the assurance that the case would receive the careful consideration of the Council, the veterans proceeded to leave the Council chamber. Alderman Fullerton, who has been one of the opponents of the adoption of the Housing Scheme, evidently thought that the delegation should know of the difficulties which faced the Council, and as the Mayor had not informed the men of these, he acted as spokesman.

Alderman Fullerton produced the report of City Solicitor Hannington, and stated that if the returned men had read the document they would sympathize with the Council. He suggested that copies of the report be furnished to the delegation.

Dr. Bapty, chairman of the delegation, informed the Council that they had legal advisors with them and that they would be only too glad to review the report, but dropped the hint that the Council need not rely too strongly on the document, as there might be clauses in it which another lawyer might take issue with.

Johns Admits Statement.

Alderman Johns was the only other alderman who spoke during the session. He rose to his feet to answer a question from H. W. Hart, one of the spokesmen for the delegation, who wished to know the authenticity of a report in the newspapers crediting the alderman with a statement that the city would have to run the risk of having to deal with men who might find it impossible to live up to the terms of the agreement. Alderman Fullerton had previously tried to save Alderman Johns the trouble of answering the query by stating that he did not think his colleague had made any statement of the kind. Alderman Johns, however, stated that if the papers had reported him as saying that soldiers would deliberately break their agreements with the city, they were wrong, but if they had reported him as saying that a percentage of the men would find it impossible to live up to their agreements, then the newspapers were right.

In introducing the delegation Dr. Bapty called the attention of the Council to the type of men who were interested in the scheme and referred to them as "a good crowd of citizens." Most of them had lots of their own on which to build and all they wished was the moral support of the Council. They were not asking the Council for a money grant.

No Aldermen Overseas.

Mr. Hart stated that as none of the aldermen had been overseas, they could not appreciate the feeling, sympathies and future outlook of men who had been there. Therefore this body was unable to legislate in the interest of the returned men until they had received these men's views, and it was for the purpose of enlightening the Council on the Housing Scheme that they had called. Mr. Hart referred to the scarcity of houses and considered that the Council should accept the loan. They were not asking the city for $180,000, but simply wished them to assume the responsibility for the money. By refusing to accept the money the city had refused to help the man who has just returned from overseas. Other cities had realized what a valuable asset the returned man was and they were at present clamoring for Victoria's allotment. He thought that Victoria, which was the fairest city in the Province, would not be backward in showing its appreciation to its gallant fighters.

Major Clark, superintendent of the Provincial Soldiers' Settlement Board, asked the council if it was bad business to relieve the lack of housing accommodation in the city by the erection of approximately sixty new houses on which the city was assured the payment of taxes by solemn and binding agreements? "I am frank to admit," stated Major Clark, "that if you cannot give us an assurance that you will again consider this matter and arrange to furnish this assistance to the returned men, enabling them to purchase their homes by easy payments and to receive from the Provincial Government an approximate total rebate of $18,000 in respect of their purchases, in short if you are unable to undertake for the returned men of the capital of this great Province, what practically all the other important municipalities have already undertaken, we shall be forced to the conviction that your action is not consistent with your protestation of thanks and our organization would in such case make the matter an issue at the municipal elections."

J. Watson, who has been a taxpayer in this city for twenty years, told the council that he would like to own a home, but so far had not had the capital to do so.

Capt. Aitkens explained the difficulties which confronted a returned man who wished to secure a home in this city. On returning he had taken a three-roomed apartment for $45, and has just been notified that rent will be increased $5 a month. He decided to try and get a home, and had done so. In a month he stated he would be able to sell the home he had just purchased for an increase of $500. He thought that the building of the houses would keep the prices down, but he was quite prepared to forego his profit if he thought that his comrades were being looked after.
